SAYS STONE WROTE ANTI-ALUM BRIEF

Member of Criminal Jurisprudence Committee Tells of the Senator's Legislative Connections.

LEE "CANNOT REMEMBER" NOW

Former Lieutenant-Governor, Following Method of Shielding Friends, Thinks Chemist Wrote Report.

From a Post-Dispatch Staff Correspondent.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 6.—The positive statement was made here today that United States Senator Stone wrote for the criminal jurisprudence committee of the Missouri Senate two years ago the report advising against the repeal of the baking powder trust statute on the ground that alum is a poisonous ingredient.

This is the report on which grew the baking powder scandal, resulting in the indictment of three senators for bribery and the confession and subsequent resignation from office of former Lieutenant-Governor John A. Lee.

It was the suppression by the criminal jurisprudence committee of the bill to permit the use of alum in baking powders that drew the first suspicion to the lobby practices of the $20,000,000 baking powder combine.

Three days after the legislature adjourned John A. Lee caused to be published what purported to be the committee report on the alum bill, although there was no public record of such a report ever having been made.

Stone had previously delivered, or rather written, an argument in behalf of the bogus Missouri Public Health Society, which corresponds closely to the committee's document.

From a member of the criminal jurisprudence committee now comes the information, it is said, that Stone himself was the author of the committee's report and that a baking powder trust chemist prepared the data for it.

Will the Senator Have to Explain?

If this representation is established to the satisfaction of the attorney-general the gum-shoe statesman will have much to explain.

Lee, who has not yet told the complete story of his culpability in legislative affairs but has sought apparently to "squeal" on his enemies and protect his friends, was asked this direct question today by Attorney-General Crow:

"Did Senator Stone write the report of the criminal jurisprudence committee on the alum bill?"

"I cannot answer the question positively, as I do not know. I think the report was gotten up by a chemist of the Royal Baking Powder Co."

"Who was the chemist?"

"I can't recall his name."

The authorities do not believe that D. J. Kelley has told the real connection of William J. Stone with baking powder legislation.

They cite the fact that Lee wrote numerous letters to Kelley on the subject and repeatedly mentioned Stone as either directly or indirectly working to promote the baking powder trust interests.

The more the grandjury probes the matter the more damaging becomes the chain of evidence against the statesman who "sucks eggs but hides the shells."

Phelps Is a Star Witness.

Col. William H. Phelps, legislative agent of the Gould interest, and John C. Carroll lobbyist for the Burlington Railroad Co. and divers other interests, were the star witnesses before the Cole County grandjury today.

Phelps rose early and left his hotel about 7 o'clock, taking a long walk, after which he was closeted with the attorney-general at the latter's office nearly an hour.

Just before he left the McCarthy House, Phelps encountered the ex-lieutenant-governor.

"Good morning, Colonel," was Lee's greeting.

"O, how do you do, John," said Phelps, somewhat surprised, and then he walked hurriedly away.

A few minutes later Carroll and Lee met and held a short whispered conversation.

At 9:15 o'clock Phelps left the supreme court building and started for the courthouse. He remained before the grandjury 61 minutes. When he emerged he was all smiles and brushed aside a query as to whether he had told anything startling with the remark:

"I never violate an oath."

"But, Colonel, the report has been persistent that certain members of the legislature to whom you gave free transportation are going to be indicted?"

"Well, that's new to me."

"How many of the present state officers ride on passes?"

"None that I know of."

"And no members of the legislature?"

"O, well, that is a different proposition. There were members who rode on passes."

"Did you so state when asked regarding the distribution of passes?"

"I refuse to answer that question on the ground that I cannot afford to pay the fines."

Carroll Is Worried

Carroll's manner indicated that he is considerably worried at the grandjury disclosures. He went direct from the grandjury room to Gov. Dockery's office and spent some time with the governor, who appeared much pleased to see him.

Carroll did not linger long at the capital and carefully avoided newspaper men. Gov. Dockery was asked the significance of his visit.

"It was just a friendly call," said the governor. "Mr. Carroll came here, found the door open, walked in and paid his respects. That is all."

After Gov. Dockery and other state officers were sworn before the grandjury yesterday, Attorney-General Crow requested the foreman to interrogate the governor as to whether he had any knowledge of boodling.

"Why, which is the governor?" asked the foreman, who explained that he had never had the pleasure of meeting the chief executive of the state.

Politicians who were formerly on the most cordial terms with him say that, in

GOING TO THE COAST TO GET A TALL WIFE

W. P. BANE.

GIANT VETERAN SEEKING A WIFE

W. P. Bane, "High Private," En Route to G. A. R. Encampment, Pays St. Louis a Call.

WON'T STOOP TO KISS A WOMAN

Aged Pennsylvanian Hopes to Find the Realization of His Ideals in Far-Away Oregon.

Too tall to see the ticket seller at Union Station when he stood upright before the window, W. P. Bane of Ninevah, Greene County, Pa., almost had to kneel when he bought his ticket for San Francisco.

Bane is going to the coast to attend the G. A. R. encampment. He was a member of the Twenty-second Pennsylvania volunteers.

"I never held an office. I was only a high private," said Bane, laughingly, when asked as to his war record. He took part in only the closing scenes of the conflict.

Bane says that he is unmarried because he has never found a woman he could kiss without kneeling before her.

"I have hopes of coming back a married man," went on the giant. "Some relations in Oregon tell me of a young woman 6 feet 8 inches tall who lives near them."

Bane is 7 feet tall in his stocking feet and weighs 200 pounds.

He has traveled extensively in spite of the insufficient accommodations of the sleeping cars. He has to sleep with his knees bent and he doesn't like it. Hotel beds are seldom long enough and when traveling he usually makes up a bed for himself on the floor. His house in Ninevah was built for him by a local carpenter and has doors 8 feet high and other parts in proportion. All the furniture is built on an 8-foot basis.

Bane was dressed Thursday in a dark blue Prince Albert suit and wore a high hat. He will be 60 years old Aug. 14, and he intends to see the Corbett-Jeffries fight in San Francisco on that day.

The big veteran tells an interesting story of his search for a wife, which led him to attend the Pan American Exposition that he might see Ella Ewing. He was disappointed to find her so tall that she could look down on him. Bane says he will not marry a woman just because of her height and he has definite ideas as to his ideals.

TEAMSTERS' STRIKE IS OFF.

Employes Are Now Returning to Their Places.

The strike of teamsters employed by St. Louis lumber dealers and allied concerns involving also the box sawyers and nailers in a sympathetic strike, has been declared off and the men are returning to work.

The teamsters, 800 in number, quit work July 16 and the box sawyers and nailers followed on July 22. About 135 companies and 18 boss teamsters were affected.

The employers at once organized and formed a committee of seven with W. A. Bonsack, representing the hardwood lumbermen, chairman. They held daily sessions, but did not confer with the strikers.

The teamsters, it is said, made no formal demands before striking. It is understood that they wanted recognition of their union. During the strike they presented their case to individual concerns, but not to the committee.

The teamsters called the strike off, it is said, at a meeting Tuesday night.

MILLIONAIRE'S TRAGIC DEATH.

Scranton Contractor Shoots Himself by Accident.

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 6.—Conrad Schroeder, one of the wealthiest contractors and builders in Pennsylvania, shot himself in the head today, dying almost instantly. The shooting occurred while Mr. Schroeder was in his room and his family say that the revolver exploded while he was changing it from one pocket to the other. He returned from New York last night and was apparently in a happy mood. Mr. Schroeder was a delegate to the national convention, which nominated Benjamin Harrison for President. He was rated as a millionaire.

HUMAN AMBULANCE SAVES GIRL'S LIFE

Young Woman Picks Up Acid Swallower and Runs to Physician.

GIRL OF 11 FIGHTS HELPER

Quarrel With Mother Causes Her to Run From Home Bareheaded and Buy Poison.

"What to do till the doctor comes" is not part of the emergency knowledge of Miss Ada Merton. When she found Jennie Scoplite lying on a walk, where she had swallowed carbolic acid, Miss Merton did not wait for the doctor to come, but picked up the girl and carried her to the nearest physician's office.

Miss Merton, who is employed by a family residing at 4553 Delmar boulevard, heard the cries of pain coming from the space between the house and that adjoining.

She ran out of the front door and discovered a young girl lying on the granitoid walk, in great agony.

An empty two-ounce vial, labeled carbolic acid, was lying by her side, and the girl's face and hands were blistered by the poison, which had been spilled on her hair and on the walk.

Realizing that it was a time for prompt action, Miss Merton picked up the limp figure. The acid on the girl's hair burned through her dress and blistered her arms, but Miss Merton did not waver.

Carrying the girl, she ran a half block to the office of Dr. Roland Smith.

The girl, who had gained partial consciousness, fought desperately, but was firmly held by Miss Merton while the physician applied the stomach pump.

Pique at Mother Caused Her Act

At the City Hospital the girl said she was Jennie Scoplite, aged 14, and that she ran away from her home at 810 North Ninth street because her mother scolded her.

She said her mother refused to allow her to continue working in a cloak factory, and insisted that she remain at home to care for her brothers and sisters.

During the quarrel, she said, her mother threatened to whip her unless she obeyed.

With no head covering and in scant attire, she wandered west until she reached Taylor and Delmar boulevard, where she purchased 10 cents' worth of carbolic acid.

She turned in at the Delmar boulevard house, thinking it a secluded place where she could take the poison. She had hardly swallowed the deadly acid before she was discovered by Miss Merton.

The physicians at the City Hospital say the girl will recover.

COOLER DAYS FOLLOW STORM

Return of Heat, If It Comes at All, Is at Least Four Days Away, Says Forecaster.

Here's the aftermath of the storm—four days of cool weather.

The forecast reads as follows: "Fair Thursday and Friday. Cooler Thursday night. Cool Friday. Fresh northerly winds."

The storm center which was over Lake Superior yesterday has moved and come into conjunction with the high pressure area from the Northwest. The result has been thunder storms and showers in the lower Missouri valley, the Mississippi valley and all states east. Heavy rains fell in portions of Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Indiana and Kentucky.

Cool weather is general in the upper Mississippi valley, lake region and the Northwest. Warmer weather is on in the states west of the Rockies.

The rainfall here Wednesday was .38 inches. The temperature this morning was 72.

Tilted the Billiard Hall.

When the storm struck Delmar Garden yesterday afternoon everything on the Midway was in full blast and several games of billiards and pool were in progress. Everyone broke for the tall timber when the wind and the flood came and stayed inside till the storm was over. When the billiard players went back to finish their games they discovered that such a thing was impossible as the wind had tipped the building just sufficiently to cause the balls to roll to one corner of the tables. There will be no more billiards at Delmar until the tables are leveled up.

SUBURBAN BUYING UP LOT

Sharp and Dangerous Curves at Thirteenth and Fourteenth and Other Streets Will Be Eliminated.

In order to eliminate two sharp curves in its tracks at Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets and Lucas avenue, the St. Louis and Suburban Railway Company has bought five lots at the junction of Lucas avenue and Fourteenth and Linden streets, paying more than $50,000 for them.

The lots front on the north line of Lucas avenue and the east line of Fourteenth street. The tracks will be moved onto these lots and straightened. As a result cars will be able to pass one another without danger of colliding on the curves.

Other purchases of real estate are pending with the same object in view, the curves at Duncan and Sarah streets being among the next to be removed. Samuel Bowman & Co. negotiateu the deal just closed.

MERCHANTS FOR FREIGHT REFORM

Petition to Business Men's League Demands Action in Terminal Tangle.

THROUGH BILLS ARE FAVORED

Washington Avenue Dealers Unanimous on Proposition That Goods Be Shipped Direct.

A petition signed by 50 of the largest shippers in St. Louis has been presented to the president and board of directors of the Business Men's League, calling on the organization to take up the question of freight congestion and demand of all the railroads centering in St. Louis that "all goods intended for St. Louis shall be delivered in St. Louis."

The signers are all members of the Business Men's League and are said to represent a combined capital of $100,000,000.

Their petition will be considered by the board of directors at the meeting Tuesday, and action on it will be taken then. The petition is now in the custody of W. F. Saunders, secretary of the league.

As stated in the Post-Dispatch Saturday delays of one week to two months in the delivery of freight to St. Louis merchants and wholesalers gave the petition its start and impetus. It has been signed by almost every wholesale merchant on Washington avenue.

The petition is taken to mean that the commercial interests represented by its signers are prepared to insist on a through bill of lading for St. Louis goods, making the individual railroads responsible for their delivery on the west side of the river.

The Terminal Association, which at present has the responsibility, has failed in the opinion of shippers. Although the yardage on both sides of the river has been increased, the facilities for getting freight transferred between St. Louis and East St. Louis have not been improved, it is said, and the congestion at present on the East Side is worse than ever before.

The petition prepared calls on the directorate of the Business Men's League to take up the problem with the railroads and by a thorough investigation to devise some plan for relief.

FORFEITURE NOTICE IS ON ITS WAY HERE

Capt. D. M. Currie, assistant to Maj. Thos. L. Casey of the engineering corps, stated at 11 o'clock Thursday that notice of the Merchants' Bridge forfeiture proceeding, to be served on the bridge company, had not been received from the war department in Washington. He expressed the opinion that, judging from Washington dispatches, the notice had not had time to reach the office, but would probably arrive Thursday afternoon or Friday morning.

UNTRUE IS FOUND ON DELMAR AVENUE

Sheriff Still Seeking the Men Who Tried to Start a "Ringer" at the Races.

Untrue, the 2-year-old filly which was the medium of an attempt at "ringing" at Delmar racetrack yesterday, was found this afternoon at 1 o'clock in a barn on Delmar avenue near the Wabash tracks.

Superintendent Mathews and Deputy Sheriff Bellairs discovered Untrue and identified her. The barn is in the rear of a boarding house conducted by a Mrs. Buelman, who says that two men came to board with her Monday, bringing the horse with them. She did not remember their names. They had paid a week in advance.

She says the last she saw of them was Tuesday.

Mrs Buelman claims several of her boarders were told by the men to play Untrue the next time she ran at Delmar.

Chillson and Rogers are still being sought by the sheriff.

The mare seized by Deputy Sheriff Bellairs at Delmar racetrack Wednesday afternoon as a ringer was identified Thursday morning by Pat Nicholson and N. B. Davis as Abbey L., a 4-year-old.

John Davis, an agent for Wilson Brothers' stable, who formerly owned "Untrue," under which name Abbey L. was entered in the first race at Delmar, stated positively that the horse seized was not Untrue.

Oscar Rhodes, who was arrested in the paddock as in possession of the horse, was taken before Justice Campbell at De-Hodiamont Thursday morning and formally charged with "running a ringer." The hearing was continued until August 11.

The identification of Abbey L. establishes the case as one of attempting ringing, a felony under the Missouri laws.

Rhodes' identity is in doubt. He says he is a stable man and worked where he could work. He denies that he is John Rogers, who purchased Untrue last week.

Rhodes says he did not know both his employers, but he identified A. B. Chillson as one of the men for whom he worked when racing men described Chillson.

Nicholson says Abbey L. belongs to Chillson and that he formerly cared for her as an employe of Chillson.

John Rogers bought Untrue last week, and the racing men say Chillson and Rogers have worked in partnership.

Supt. William Mathews of Delmar track is directing the search for Chillson and Rogers. He says Chillson's trunk was removed from Delmar track Tuesday and taken to the Laclede Hotel.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

St. Louis and vicinity—Fair Thursday night and Friday; cooler.

Missouri—Clearing Thursday afternoon, followed by generally fair and cooler Thursday night, Friday, fair and cool; northwest winds.

CUPID LAUGHS AT LIGHTNING AS BRIDE-TO-BE WALKS TIES TO WEDDING

MRS. J. E. COWLING.

When Trolley Car Stops for Lack of Power, Clayton-Bound Pair Set Out Afoot.

Miss Georgia Barnhart refused to let a thunder and rainstorm delay her wedding. So when the "calamity line" car, on which she and J. E. Cowling were going to Clayton to be married, was stopped by a broken wire, just west of Skinker road, she walked the rest of the way.

Cowling lives at Alton. When Miss Barnhart, whose home has been with a sister, Mrs. J. H. Bowman of 2317A Hickory street, went for a visit to another sister, Mrs. J. Gilmore, at Alton, Cowling met her. That was nearly two years ago. They have been engaged most of the time since—"a year, three months and nineteen days," said the bride Thursday morning with much exactness.

"Let's get out and walk," said Cowling, when the storm caused the shutting off of the power on the Clayton line.

"All right," said Miss Barnhart. "No use in waiting after we have got this far, is there?"

They took the middle of the track and walked nearly two miles to the Clayton courthouse. There they got their license and were promptly married.

"I am glad we didn't wait for the car," said the bride Thursday morning. "We got to Clayton away ahead of it, and as it was 7:30 when we got home, no telling what time it would have been had we waited."

Mr. and Mrs. Cowling will reside in Alton, where they have fitted up a home for housekeeping.

FAMILY FIGHT FOR PATTERN BUSINESS

Attorneys for Mrs. Norman and Mrs. Kronck Catch the Spirit and Clash Bitterly.

Sharp tilts between opposing attorneys, veiled insinuations, suppressed anger and a general atmosphere of threatened eruption were features of a case heard by Judge McDonald in chambers Thursday. The vigilance of a deputy sheriff barely managed to keep principals, witnesses and lawyers properly subdued.

The case was one in which Mrs. Nancy R. Norman is seeking to enjoin her daughter, Mrs. Belle A. Norman-Kronck, and her husband, former Representative Hubert S. Kronck, and others from, in future, securing the mail of the Norman Pattern Co.

The mother, who is very old, says that she established the business of sending out dress patterns by mail several years ago, but that her daughter, Belle, and Mr. Kronck, managed to gain possession of both the mail and the business of the concern after a quarrel between mother and daughter last April.

The postoffice authorities recognize Mrs. Kronck as the head of the business, and refused to deliver mail to the mother unless she should get a writ of injunction from the court.

Chester H. Krum, representing the plaintiff, and Mr. Kronck, representing his wife and himself, had clashes that bordered on the sensational. In one of them Mr. Kronck angered Judge Krum by declaring that "however the other side came into court, his client came with clean hands." The Court prevented anything more than a sharp retort.

The defense claims that Mrs. Norman-Kronck has been the real manager of the business, that her talent built it up, and that she is therefore entitled to it.

The mother and four other daughters, who take her part in the quarrel, were in court and frequently became very greatly excited.

Soon after the beginning of the trouble, Mrs. Norman secured a writ of replevin for the property involved. When she called with a deputy sheriff at the home of the Kroncks, 101 North Channing, they could not get into the house. Mrs. Norman found an ax and broke in a window, when she and the deputy took possession of what they could find.

BUSY STORK AT SLEUTH'S HOME

Arrival of Twin Girls Agitates Chief Desmond as Much as Would Rudolph's Capture.

Chief of Detectives Desmond made a hurried call at the Four Courts Thursday. He let himself in through the basement, went slyly and mysteriously up the back stairs, stole with easy tread along the shadows cast by the office furniture, and when nobody was looking darted into Chief of Police Kiely's private office.

He slammed the door behind him quickly, and then backed up against it, both hands grasping the knob.

Chief Kiely looked up, startled. He saw that Desmond was panting, that his hair was disheveled, that there was perspiration on his brow, and that his diamond shirt stud, heaving up and down on his surging bosom, was shooting its rays to all parts of the room, as though it were a searchlight in active operation.

But there was a glad light in Desmond's eye.

"Rudolph!" shouted Kiely in glee. "Where, Billy, where—"

"Naw!" he sneered—"not Rudolph—girls!"!"

Kiely dropped into his chair. The chair barely withstood the drop. "A girl, is it!" he said.

"No, I didn't say 'a girl'—I said girls—two of 'em—twins!"

Desmond approached closer, tapped Kiely on the third button and told the story of the stork's visit to the Desmond home at 4259 Page boulevard Thursday morning and of his leaving two beautiful little girls.

EACH THOUGHT OTHER LOST

Husband and Wife Meet by Chance on Street While Seeking Each Other Through Police.

Oscar Oberhurser and his wife met at Twelfth and Walnut streets Thursday morning while she was returning from reporting his disappearance at police headquarters and as he was on his way to the same place to ask concerning her.

There was joy on the corner when the man saw the wife whom he thought lost and the wife beheld the husband whose appearance she had just described so minutely to the police.

Oberhurser came to St. Louis from Chicago a few weeks ago to seek work. He left Mrs. Oberhurser in Chicago, promising to send for her.

He secured employment and sent his wife money for transportation and other expenses, but neglected to give his address. When she arrived at Union Station Thursday, she did not find her husband. She went to the Central district police station to make inquiries. A short distance from the station she met her husband, who had failed to find her at Union Station and was going to report her disappearance.

UNSIGNED LETTER GIVES MOTHER JOY

Hiding Place of Her Child Found by Aid of Unknown Friend.

BOY KIDNAPED BY FATHER

When Arrested Man Concealed Fact That Little One Was in Policeman's Home.

A mysterious letter, bearing no signature, changed Mrs. Clara Bachman from a grief-stricken, despairing mother to a contented and joyous woman. It thwarted a kidnaping and opened the way for retribution to a wife deserted by her husband.

Until five months ago Mrs. Bachman lived happily with the man against whom she has just won a valiant fight for her child. Then came a quarrel and separation and the woman returned to the home of her father at 1111 Salisbury street.

Her 3-year-old child, Robert Emmet, golden-haired, blue-eyed and chubby, was placed in the care of Bachman's mother, who lives in North St. Louis. Three months ago Mrs. Bachman succeeded in securing possession of her boy.

She lived contented, her love for the boy and his love for her making amends for the sorry remembrance of an unhappy marriage.

She found work to support herself and the child, and lived contentedly. Tuesday night she returned from her tasks, hoping to be cheered by the baby who was her sole comfort. She found a blank where she had left a joy. The baby was gone.

When she departed in the morning, she left little Robert with her father, Simon Selger. Mr. Selger found occasion to leave the house and asked Mrs. Hahn, whose home is next door, to look after the child.

Seized Child and Drove Away.

Shortly before noon, as Mrs. Hahn was seated on her front doorstep with Robert, a man drove up in an express wagon. He walked to Mrs. Hahn's side and before she realized his intention caught up the child in his arms and ran back to the wagon.

A minute later he was gone.

Alarmed and excited, Mrs. Hahn could only await the coming of the mother, to whom she faltered out the story of the kidnaping.

Mrs. Bachman suspected her husband. That night, in company with her father, she went to his home at 4163 Prairie avenue. The house was locked. There was no trace of man or child.

The police were then asked to search for the child and to serve a warrant for wife abandonment, which Mrs. Bachman had obtained against her husband three months before.

Tuesday night Bachman was arrested. In the morning he was released on bond. The arrest brought little comfort to the mother. It had not given her her child.

With the morning that Bachman gained his temporary freedom hope was revived in the mother's heart. She received an anonymous letter. It read:

"If you want to get your child back go to the home of Police Officer John C. Bruce, 2334A Rutger street. I got this from a cabman who took the baby to Bruce's house. They are getting ready to take him out into the country."

Mrs. Bachman waited until afternoon. Then with her neighbor, Mrs. Hahn, she went to the address given in the letter.

Set Watch at the Rear Door.

She told Mrs. Hahn to go to the rear of the house to prevent any one from departing that way while she was gaining admission at the front. She rang the bell and Mrs. Bruce came to the door.

"Give me my child," she said.

"I don't know you," said Mrs. Bruce. "I haven't your child."

"I have come for my child and I want him. Give him to me."

The sobbing mother grew hysterical. She clutched at Mrs. Bruce's skirt, knelt on the steps, pleaded and threatened. Mrs. Bruce gave way.

"I have your child," she said, "but let me talk to you. You know me and I know you. I met you with your husband. Don't you remember me?"

"I don't remember you and I don't want to remember you. I want my child."

"Wouldn't you rather your boy would be with friends of your husband's than with strangers? He is in good hands. Your husband brought him to me."

The mother could stand no more. She pushed by Mrs. Bruce and rushed upstairs. She ran from room to room. At last she found her boy, lying on the floor asleep. At the sound of her voice he awoke and stretched out his hands to her. She caught him up and pressed him to her bosom. Mrs. Bruce had followed the excited mother. At the sight of the two she gave way entirely.

Woman's Heart Gave Sympathy.

"Take your boy," she said. "I wouldn't keep him away from you if I could."

Mrs. Bruce then told the joyous mother that about 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon a closed carriage drove up to her house. Bachman took the little boy out after him. He told her, she says, that he wanted her to keep his son until morning. He said the boy was sick and that he wanted to take him into the country. Just then little Robert began to cough. Mrs. Bruce says that she thought it was whooping-cough. She pitied the child and took him in.

The police think the cabman informed Mrs. Bachman of her child's whereabouts, or that he told some friends of the incident and that this friend, having read in Tuesday's Post-Dispatch of the kidnaping, wrote the letter which restored little Robert to his mother.

Bachman will now be prosecuted on the charge of wife abandonment, as the charge of kidnaping cannot be preferred while other complaint is standing.

CARNEGIE GIVES AWAY $2,500,000

Bonds of the Steel Trust Turned Over to the People of Dunfermline.

THE DONOR'S NATIVE TOWN

Placed in the Hands of Fifteen Persons to Be Used for the Benefit of All Citizens.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—In handing over to 15 representative citizens of his native town, Dunfermline, who were his guests at Skibo castle early this week, a trust deed transfering to them $2,500,000 in 5-per-cent bonds of the United States Steel Corporation, and Pittenchieff Park, Andrew Carnegie explained the objects he had in view in these words:

"It is an experiment, the object of which is to attempt to introduce into the monotonous lives of the toiling masses of Dunfermline more of the sweetness and light, to give them, especially the young, some charm, some elevating conditions of life, which their residence elsewhere would have denied, so that a child in his native town will feel, however far he may have roamed, that simply by virtue of being such, his life has been made happier and better."

Mr. Carnegie proceeded to say that he had provided for this experiment in his will more than twenty years ago, but his retirement from business enabled him to put the scheme into operation during his lifetime. The problem set to the trustees was: "What can be done in towns to benefit the masses by money in the hands of the most public-spirited citizens?" If it was proved that good could be done, the trustees would open new fields to the rich, which, Mr. Carnegie said, he believed they would hereafter be more and more anxious to find for their surplus wealth.

Mr. Carnegie exhorted the trustees not to be afraid of making mistakes; to try many things freely, but to discuss just as freely, keeping in touch with the masses and constantly aiming to prove their tastes, and give Dunfermline something beyond what was possessed by other cities.

GREATEST SYSTEM, WORST SITUATION

"Complete Terminal Facilities" Not Delivering the Goods to St. Louis.

CAPACITY NOT IN EVIDENCE

"Growth of Twenty-Five Years" in Such Tangled Shape That Conference Is Called.

The general managers of the eastern railroads entering St. Louis want to know what plans the Terminal Association has for relieving freight congestion. At their request a meeting has been called for 10 o'clock Friday morning.

According to John J. Baulch, traffic manager of the Interstate Car Transfer Co., in a paper read before the St. Louis Railway Club April 10 last, the subject is not a new one.

In opening his paper Mr. Baulch said: "Six years ago I had the honor and pleasure of presenting to this club a paper entitled 'The Advance and Progress of St. Louis Terminals.' The pace set in the railway service during the past six years, especially in St. Louis and East St. Louis terminals, makes the paper read before you in January, 1897, almost ancient history."

Julius S. Walsh, former president of the Terminal Association, in his letter of February 14 last, said on the same subject: "The Terminal Association owns the most extensive and complete system of railway terminals in this country, the result of a growth of more than 25 years."

In spite of these facts, shippers say, freight congestion is more serious at present than ever before since the terminals were built, and railroad men fear an absolute blockade.

Shippers of through freight say that whenever possible they route their goods to avoid the St. Louis terminals, described as "the most complete and extensive in the country," on acount of the congestion and long delay here.

Eads Bridge Is but Half Worked.

The Post-Dispatch of July 31, in describing the congested conditions, pointed out that although the Terminal's tunnel rules allowed the handling of 3600 cars through it and over Eads bridge daily, only 1609 were handled; and that only 778 cars daily, or 78 trains of 10 cars each, one train every 20 minutes, crossed the Merchants' bridge, which is a double track structure free of tunnel restriction.

Mr. Baulch, in his paper before the railway club gives a detailed description of the terminal extensions made in the past six years on both sides of the river in the futile effort to relieve congestion.

Following is a summary of these extensions as given by him:

Interstate Sand and Car Transfer Co., organized 1897, with terminals and car ferries connecting all the East Side lines with the Burlington, Wabash, Missouri, Kansas & Texas, Iron Mountain, Missouri Pacific, Frisco, Rock Island and St. Louis & Southwestern lines on the West Side. Has largest transfer barge on the river, handling twenty 40-ton cars, loaded, at a trip.

Burlington—Inbound and outbound North St. Louis yards increased; storage yard for 500 cars at Benton street; elaborate track connections with the Terminal and Wiggins' Ferry tracks; double track connection on river front between North Market and Branch streets.

St. Louis Belt and Terminal railway, under construction from North St. Louis around west side of city to the Frisco tracks, thence to Mill Creek district and river front in Carondelet.

West belt of Terminal Association, completed to Wabash connection near De Hodiamont. This, with St. Louis Belt and Terminal, furnishes increased facilities for handling business between all west side lines and offers many factory sites.

Belt Lines Link All Extremities.

North belt of Terminal Association, completed to Baden, connects north end factories with roads north, south, east and west.

Taylor City belt, connecting Missouri Pacific and Frisco with World's Fair grounds. Ten miles of siding and main tracks.

St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern—1000-car yard, with facilities for river transfer at Ivory Station, south of Carondelet, yard for several hundred cars between Barton street and Chouteau avenue, Main street and river; double-track cradle at foot of Lesperance street, operated in connection with interstate Car Transfer.

St. Louis Transfer Company—Purchase of Union Stock Yards site in North St. Louis and other grounds, preliminary to extensive improvements.

Wabash—With plenty of terminal room in North St. Louis and on Union Depot line, figuring to get in closer touch with downtown wholesale and produce district, changing geography of Third street and Franklin avenue.

St. Louis Merchants' Terminal—North St. Louis yard, near Bremen avenue, extended and connections with Burlington, Missouri, Kansas and Texas, and Wabash increased.

The railroads on the East Side have confined their improvements, says Mr. Baulch, chiefly to outer yards. "The cramped condition on Bloody Island not permitting much enlargement in that direction. Following are the extensions made:

Illinois Central—Outer yard with capacity of 500 cars.

Mobile & Ohio—Now extending its outer yards.

Louisville & Nashville—Entire reconstruction of its East St. Louis yards and terminals.

Illinois Transfer Railway, which is the Terminal Railroad Association's outer belt, extending from Madison on the north to connection with Illinois Central on the south, complete belt of East St. Louis, giving railroads opportunity to avoid congested yards with through traffic.

Chicago & Alton—New receiving and interchange yard north of East St. Louis.

Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis—Five hundred-car yard north of waterworks station in East St. Louis.

Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern and Vandalia: Outer yards extended at Venice and Cone Station.

Southern: Extensive outer yard at Denverside; Venice and Carondelet Belt extended two miles north of Venice to largo switching yard with complete incline to river for boat transfer of cars.

Terminal Association's "hump yard," capacity 500 cars; cars moved by gravity.

Granite City Belt line, connected with Terminal association lines, giving Granite City factories access to all railroads.

SMALL WALL STREET FAILURE.

Laidlaw & Garrie's Suspension Does Not Affect Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Laidlaw & Garrie, members of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, announced their suspension today.

The failure was not important enough to have effect on the stock exchange.

The stock market opened rather excited today and there were wide declines in a number of securities, caused presumably by fears of further failures.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the official announcement was made that all sheets had gone through the stock exchange clearing house without difficulty, thus indicating that all brokers had been able to meet their obligations this morning.

Hurt by Exploding Bottle.

Henry Borchers, 36 years old, living at 3258 North Nineteenth street, was cleaning furniture in a shed back of his home, when the bottle of cleaning fluid, said to be ammonia, exploded. He was cut and burned about the head and neck. No cause assigned for the explosion.

MEAT SELLER HEAVILY FINED

George Jasel, for Refusing an Inspection, Fares Badly at the Hands of Judge Pollard.

George Jasel of 729 South Second street was fined $50 and costs in Judge Pollard's court Thursday for refusing to allow Capt. Thomas L. O'Sullivan, a city meat inspector, to examine the meat and other goods he had for sale. He appealed the case.

Jasel insisted that he was not selling meat when the examination was demanded as he had in his wagon only "liver and brains," which he was delivering to the butchers.

"Livers and brains is not meat," he said to Judge Pollard.

The court asked if liver and brains ever became spoiled or needed inspection.

"Not my liver and brains," answered Jasel, "for I keep them on ice all the time and they are always good."

"I wish you would get your brains off the ice long enough to talk about Capt. O'Sullivan's effort to look into your wagon," remarked the judge.

Wheer His Faith Fell.

"Mr. Chubbs, your little boy doesn't obey you very well."

"No, he has never respected me since I tried to show him how to fly a kite."

DEWAR DECISION IS RESERVED.

Wants Reward From Hill-O'Meara Company for Furnishing Laborers.

After four continuances and postponements, the suit of Thomas C. Dewar against the Hill-O'Meara Construction Co., was heard by Justice Carroll Thursday morning. His decision was reserved.

Dewer sued for $121.75, which he alleges is due for furnishing 30 men to take the places of strikers on sewer work. He claims that the company refused to use the men after they had been furnished as per agreement.

RALPH ORTHWEIN GIVES UP $100,000

Signs Title Deed of Trust on His Properties to Keep Up Heavy Loans.

Ralph H. Orthwein, president of the American League baseball club and secretary of the Sempire Clock Co., has filed a deed of trust conveying his property, personal and real, and also that of his wife, to relatives to secure loans to the amount of $100,000.

Mr. Orthwein says the transaction is for the purpose of enabling him to carry out business ventures.

The properties are to be managed by the trustee for a period of 15 years, during which time a monthly allowance is to be paid to Mrs. Ralph H. Orthwein for her support and maintenance.

Charles C. Orthwein of Kansas City is named as trustee for Caroline Orthwein, mother of Ralph Orthwein; Octilli C. Everts, Fannie J. Smith, Max R. Orthwein and Charles C. Orthwein.

The conveyance was made on June 8, 1903. The deed, which was filed late Tuesday evening, declares that Ralph Orthwein is indebted in large amounts and that the persons to whom the deed of trust is made have advanced large sums of money for the purpose of enabling him to carry loans made by him and to protect his securities.

Though Mr. Orthwein is president of the St. Louis American League Baseball club, his financial interest in it, as he himself announced when taking the office, is slight, and the club is in no way involved in any of Mr. Orthwein's indebtedness.

IN SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Everett Kennedy of Bonham, Tex., have announced the engagement of their niece, Miss May Field Clendenen, to Mr. Frank Robertson of Mexico, Mo. Miss Clendenen is a sister of Mrs. Howard Baskett of Mexico. It was during Miss Clendenen's school days at Hardin College that she and Mr. Robertson met. Mr. Robertson is well known in fashionable St. Louis social circles. He is a brother of Miss Elizabeth Robertson, who spent the past winter in St. Louis and of Mrs. Will Bronaugh of London, England, whose wedding early last fall was one of the largest and most fashionable of Mexico's events and was attended by a number of St. Louisans.

Miss Evelyn Gilliam of 5560 Von Verson avenue was given a surprise party by her friends last Wednesday evening. Among those present were: Messrs. Owens, Zengle, Ward, Hoffman, Uppinghouse, Rader, Stevens, Gilliam, Orear, Riter, Yarkins, Brauer, Powell, Muscik, Tremayne, Fudge, Wygant, Triplett; Misses Turtin, Zengle, Rutherford, Bloemer, Boyd, Gilliam, Tolle, G. Starke, Heelan, Dickinson, Lewis, Burke, Kossiever, Horn, S. O'Brien, Longlands, M. O'Brien.

Dr. and Mrs. Burton Thorpe have returned from Asheville, where they spent the past two weeks.

Mrs. James A. Lynch, with the Misses Agnes and Florence Lynch, are at Eureka Springs.

Mr. M. Harris and his mother, Mrs. Harris, have given up their home on Cook avenue and are now at 4834 West Belle place.

AUTOMOBILISTS ARE MODEST.

Want Exclusive Use of Public Highways for Race.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Expert automobilists, including several millionaires, now at Saratoga, are reported to be bent on having a 65-mile race, provided the authorities will grant them the right of way.

The proposed course is from Saratoga to Schuylerville and return, 24 miles.

The subject came up at a dinner recently, and a committee has been appointed to wait upon the authorities and request permission for the exclusive use of the road during the contest.

At the present time there are about 60 or 70 automobiles at Saratoga, and fully 20 would probably start in the race.

NEW COINS DO NOT GO.

Filipinos Dislike the New Currency Introduced.

MANILA, Aug. 6.—The effort of the United States government to introduce its new currency into the Philippine Islands has not met with the success that was anticipated. Although a large quantity of the coins minted at San Francisco have reached the islands, there is considerable protest against their use, especially in the provinces. The bankers of Manila, having become convinced of the necessity of action in the matter, held a conference today with Gov. Taft, and after a full discussion promised to render the government all the aid in their power to secure the acceptance of the American peso as the standard of value and the general use of the new coins.

PUNISHMENT.

Social progress has done away with a great many forms of punishment once administered under the laws of enlightened people. But nature never changes or modifies her penalties. She still has the same punishment for the man who neglects or abuses his stomach as she had in the far off days "when Adam delved and Eve span."

The physical discomfort, dullness, sluggishness, irritability, nervousness and sleeplessness which are visited upon the man who eats carelessly or irregularly have been from the beginning the evidences of disease of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures the diseased stomach and enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, so that the sluggishness, irritability, nervousness and sleeplessness which result from innutrition are cured also.

"I was taken sick nine years ago with fever," writes Mr. M. M. Wardwell, of Linwood, Leavenworth Co., Kansas. "Had the doctor and he broke up the fever all right, but I took diarrhoea right away; he couldn't cure it and it became chronic, and then he gave up the case. I got so weak with it and had piles so badly I couldn't lie down, nor hardly sit up. Was that way two or three months; thought I would never be well again, but picked up one of Dr. Pierce's Memorandum Books one day and saw your description of catarrh of the stomach. I thought it hit my case. We had a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the house that was got for mother. You recommend it for catarrh of the stomach, so I went to taking it. The one bottle nearly cured me. I got two bottles next time and took one and one-half and was well. I haven't been bothered with diarrhoea since."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness.

EASTERN RELATIONS AID MISS PIERCE

Testimony Obtained in Pittsburg Favors Claimant to the Imboden Estate.

Attorneys Joseph Wheless and A. H. Roudebush are expected to reach St. Louis today with new depositions taken in Pittsburg bearing on the suit of Lillie Belle Pierce against the estate of the late Luther E. Imboden, and purporting to establish her claim as the widow of the dead man.

Attorney Wheless, representing Miss Pierce, took depositions of Mrs. Lenora Hough, a cousin of Miss Pierce, and her husband, Wm. Hough, in which both testified that Mr. Imboden had told them Miss Pierce was his wife, but that he did not care to have her known as such until after his daughter's marriage, as he did not want to put a stepmother over his daughter.

They testified that while visiting Miss Pierce at 3525 North Taylor avenue, they frequently saw Mr. Imboden at the house; that he took Mrs. Hough and Miss Pierce to the Planter's Hotel for lunch one day, and in the course of the lunch claimed the right of a husband to object to a man whom Miss Pierce had spoken to, declaring that he was not fit to associate with her, and telling her she must not speak to him again.

Later, said Mrs. Hough, they went to a dentist's office, where Imboden settled a bill for work done for Miss Pierce. He also bought a handsome dress for her. While Miss Pierce was a guest of Mrs. Hough, Imboden, she said, wrote every day, and sent frequent checks and postal orders. He referred to Miss Pierce as his wife, and frequently addressed her as "my dear sweetheart," "my beautiful sweetheart" and "my dear little wife."

Attorney Roudebush was present at the taking of the depositions as a representative of Mrs. Etelka Parrish, daughter of Imboden and chief opponent of the Pierce claim.

TASK FOR GIANTS BENEATH TRACKS

Monster Girder Is Placed in Position for the Union Station Subway.

The first of the great iron girders of the Union Station subway, which are to support the weight of the tracks and trains overhead, was lowered into the subway Thursday. As it was swung clear of the ground by a huge crane and darkened the verge of a chasm between tracks 16 and 17, just south of the train shed, the beginning of the heavy work of substituting massive iron for the cumbering falsework of wood in the vast subway was marked.

For several days the great girder, five and a half feet wide and 18 inches thick, and weighing 12 tons, had lain beside the track while a hole was made in the false work big enough to contain it.

At 10:15 it was hoisted clear of the ground. It was pointing north and south, but suspended from the middle, and the engineer in charge of the work, swayed the 12 tons of metal back and forth with one hand to show how easy it would be to swing it around to east and west, suspended in that way, after it had been lowered.

The principal girders are to run east and west. There will be two rows of them 600 feet in length, which is the extent of the subway east and west. They will be supported by two rows of columns, one every 30 feet, where the girders are joined. The columns will weigh 12 tons.

The longitudinal girders, running north and south, will be longer and lighter, 40 feet in length and weighing 8 to 10 tons. The subway will be 133 feet from north to south.

One Room Under Track Network.

Under the network of tracks, over which hundreds of trains will pass each day, the subway will be one great room. Teams will be driven in and out on Eighteenth and Twentieth streets. Between the tracks will be hydraulic elevators for raising and lowering baggage to the track level.

When the girders are placed there will be a layer of strong buckle plate, on which concrete will be laid.

The work will occupy eight months more. It is prosecuted slowly at best. The architectural iron workers are permitted to tear up only two tracks at a time.

When the subway is completed it will be the largest of its kind in the world, the only one, in fact, on so large a scale. It is designed to facilitate the handling of baggage and express, and is expected to be a great advance over the present method of handling it on the track level.

Pius X has appointed his conclavist, Mgr. Bressan, as his private chaplain, which means that he will also be the pontiff's chief private secretary.

NEWSBOYS ENJOY FEAST.

Officers of Their Union Entertain Them at a "Spread."

The members of the Newsboys' Union were entertained Wednesday night by their officers at the first "spread" of the season. Cake, ice cream and watermelon were served and the boys spent the evening with games and a general good time.

The invitation was extended to the boys Wednesday morning and was the chief subject of talk among them all day. Entertainments of a similar sort will be given for them frequently hereafter.

CITIZENS MUST SPEAK ENGLISH.

Judge Will Not Naturalize Aliens Who Cannot.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Judge Clifford D. Gregory, in the county court today in rejecting 60 applicants for naturalization papers, established a precedent, by making the following declaration:

"I will not naturalize any person who comes before me and is unable to speak the English language sufficiently to make himself understood. I will compel them to answer questions regarding their age, place of nativity, when they arrived in the United States, and any other questions which I deem essential to good citizenship, and, if they fail to make satisfactory answers, I will refuse to grant them the necessary papers.

"When a man has been in this country five years and is unable to speak or talk our language, in my opinion, he is not fit to be admitted to citizenship, and I will act accordingly."

Deaf Mute Asks Damages.

The suit of Mrs. Mollie Allen against the Transit company for $500 damages, which she claims as a result of injuries following a collision between a wagon and a car, was called in Justice Carroll's court Thursday and continued to Tuesday, Aug. 25. The plaintiff and all her witnesses are deaf mutes.

J. L. French Estate $19,000.

The inventory of the estate of the late John L. French was filed this morning by his widow, Elizabeth P. French, acting as administratrix. The inventory shows that Mr. French's estate was worth $19,058.75. The following items are enumerated: Real estate, $100; accounts, $1,276.77; stocks, $1500; cash, $16,081.98; chattels, $100.

view of the alum scandal revelations, United States Senator Stone should resign and retire to private life.

"If he thinks," said one of them to the Post-Dispatch correspondent today, "that he can be elected on his record as it now stands exposed, let him go before the people again next year and make the fight. If he did so I am certain he would be buried under an avalanche of votes."

Col. Phelps will go to St. Louis tonight, where he will testify before the grand jury.

G. E. Paine, superintendent of the Postal Telegraph Co., and G. J. Frankel, district superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Co., appeared before Judge Hazel this morning to show cause why they should not be compelled to produce the telegrams which passed between D. J. Kelley and John A. Lee during the recent legislative session and up to July 21 of this year. They were accompanied by their attorneys. The hearing was continued to 2 o'clock.

Elmer Phipps, member of the 1901 legislature was a witness today. He, it is understood, possesses information concerning a certain lobbyist who worked, it is claimed, in the interest of the alum baking powder manufacturers.

Col. Phelps was asked as to the report that he offered John A. Lee $10,000 to leave the United States so that he could avoid appearing as a witness at the Farris trials.

"I never offered him a dollar; in fact," he declared, "I have not seen Lee since the legislature closed. I know nothing about his deals, had none with him and therefore there was no incentive to induce me to pay him the sum mentioned or any other sum."

PHELPS TO FOLLOW LEE AS GRANDJURY WITNESS

John A. Lee, former lieutenant-governor, was the main witness before the Cole County grandjury Wednesday afternoon. His examination lasted two hours, and at its conclusion he had a conference with Attorney-General Crow.

Lee arrived at the capital at noon from St. Louis and drove to the McCarty house, where he stayed until time for his appearance before the grandjury.

It is believed he was examined closely regarding the alum deals and the money he received from Kelley and gave testimony tending to strengthen that which led to the indictment of Senators Farris, Matthews and Smith.

He is said to have been asked about $4000 paid him by Kelley on contracts and also about a check for $2000 from Kelley, which has heretofore gone unmentioned. The jury also wanted to know about his alleged statement that he made $10,000 out of the office of lieutenant-governor two years ago.

Lee will be before the grandjury again Thursday. The chief witness, however, will be William H. Phelps, the Missouri Pacific lobbyist, who is one of 15 summoned for the day. Speaker James H. Whitecotton is also expected.

Col. Phelps was in St. Louis a few hours Wednesday night and was served while at dinner at the Southern Hotel with a subpena to appear before the St. Louis grandjury Friday. He accepted service and stated afterward that he should appear. He left on the 10:10 Missouri Pacific train for Jefferson City.

The alum deal received attention Wednesday. One of the witnesses was former Representative William P. Lightholder of St. Louis, who introduced, in 1901, the bill to repeal the law prohibiting the use of alum.

J. G. Slate, who formerly represented Maries County in the legislature, was also a witness.

The opinion still prevails that Senator Stone's election to succeed Vest will be investigated, and it was intimated Wednesday night that the senator might be a witness Thursday. Joe Tall, his private secretary, and Fred Fleming of Kansas City, one of the political managers, are among the witnesses.

A number of other Kansas City politicians have been summoned, including A. Judha, manager of the Grand opera house; J. A. McLane and Elmot Phipps, former representatives, and Walton H. Holmes, former president of the Metropolitan Street railway.

Attorney-General Crow said Wednesday night that he would get out attachments for witnesses who failed to obey his summonses. He is determined that none shall escape.

District Superintendents Paine and Frankel of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies are expected to explain to Judge Hazel Thursday their reasons for not obeying the grandjury summons to produce the Lee and Kelley telegrams.

NO GRANDJURY WANTS JOE TALL AS WITNESS

Joseph Tall, private secretary to Senator William J. Stone and former chief clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives, is spending Thursday in St. Louis.

He said Thursday morning that he had not been served with a supena to appear before a grandjury, either in St. Louis or Jefferson City.

Tall said he came to St. Louis a few days ago from his home in Clark County, and would leave soon for a trip on the northern lakes.

Miss Mamie McNamara and Miss Kitty Logur have been spending a fortnight at Grand Haven, Mich. They will return home next Sunday.

SAILBOAT OCCUPANTS GO

No Trace of Five Persons Seen Before the Storm.

A sailboat passed Venice headed up stream just before the storm yesterday. The boat contained five occupants. Rober Wilson, a fisherman, reports the boat bottomside up near Gaberet island with no trace of the occupants. Thus far no lives were lost in the TriCities from the effects of the storm, but many record slight injuries.

Mrs. Kurtzeborn was crossing the street on her way home and did not see the approaching car until it was a few feet distant.

U. S. SENATOR FROM SOUTH CAROLINA

Recommends Pe-ru-na For Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble.

Ex-Senator M. C. Butler.

Catarrh of the Stomach Is Generally Called Dyspepsia — Something to Produce Artificial Digestion Is Generally Taken.

Hence, Pepsin, Pancreatin and a Host of Other Digestive Remedies Have Been Invented.

These Remedies Do Not Reach the Seat of the Difficulty, Which Is Really Catarrh.

EX. U. S. Senator M. C. Butler from South Carolina, was Senator from that state for two terms. In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., from Washington, D. C., says:

"I can recommend Peruna for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine besides a good tonic."
—M. C. Butler.

The only rational way to cure dyspepsia is to remove the catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh. Peruna does not produce artificial digestion. It cures catarrh and leaves the stomach to perform digestion in a natural way. This is vastly better and safer than resorting to artificial methods.

Peruna has cured more cases of dyspepsia than all other remedies combined, simply because it cures catarrh wherever located. If catarrh is located in the head, Peruna cures it. If catarrh has fastened itself in the throat or bronchial tubes, Peruna cures it. When catarrh becomes settled in the stomach, Peruna cures it, as well in this location as in any other.

Peruna is not simply a remedy for dyspepsia. Peruna is a catarrh remedy. Peruna cures dyspepsia because it is generally dependent upon catarrh.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advise gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

500 BELLS RING IN HONOR OF POPE PIUS X

For a Full Hour in Rome the Peals Rang Out From the Spire of Every Church in the Historic City.

DIPLOMATS PAY HOMAGE TO THE NEW PONTIFF

The Audience in the Vatican, Where Ambassadors of Many Nations Were Presented, Gave Promise of a New Era of International Amity.

ROME, Aug. 6.—During one full hour this morning there seemed to be nothing but vibrating sounds, so penetrating were the strokes of the bells of about 500 churches, which all ringing together, absorbed all other noises. The ringing was in honor of the election of Pius X—a welcome unique of its kind and ordered by Cardinal Resphigi, vicar of Rome, who issued special instructions therefor. All the churches contemporaneously celebrated masses for the event, the intoning of the Oremus combining with the harmony. The bells involuntarily served another purpose, that of ringing in the great ceremony of the reception of the diplomatic body accredited to the holy see. Rome has lately been surfeited with Vatican functions, but that of this morning was so striking that it held its own with the others.

The members of the sacred college gathered before the hour set for the ceremony and held a kind of informal reception, the conclave, short as it was, having brought them cordially together. A procession was then formed. First came the Swiss guards, which gives a peculiar medieval splendor to all papal gatherings; then the Palatine guards, followed in irregular ranks by the whole pontifical court, in its multiform and multicolored costumes, the cardinals in all the gorgeousness of their scarlet robes, and the bishops, scarcely less conspicuous, in their purple.

The Pope, in spotless white, his gray hair in harmony with his whole attire and surrounded by the Noble Guard, who always remain near his person, went on foot just as the others.

The procession having gained the hall of the throne, where the members of the diplomatic body were gathered, Senhor d'Antas, the Portuguese ambassador, the dean of the corps, read in a clear voice the collective greeting of his colleagues, presenting their homage to the new Pope and assuring him of their fidelity. Pius X answered with great cordiality, thanking them heartily for their good wishes. All then kissed his hand and the pontiff took this opportunity of speaking personally to each, showing a knowledge of the politics of the divers countries which surprised the diplomats, the new pontiff being credited with taking small interest in affairs outside Italy. It was another surprise to them to hear him speak French, if not fluently, at least with a certain readiness. Altogether, the whole audience gave promise of a new era of international cordiality at the Vatican.

STORM CREATES A PANIC AT THE GLOBE.

Skylight and Huge Window Panes Broken—Employes and Customers Cause Excitement.

The storm yesterday afternoon played havoc at the store of the Globe, N. W. corner of Seventh and Franklin. The crashing of glass caused much excitement among the female employes of the firm and customers in the store at the time. Many ladies fainted and saleswomen cried and some knelt in prayer. The store managers hurried around, assuring all that there was no danger. The storm came so sudden that all the doors and windows could not be closed in time. As a result, much damage to the stock occurred. On the third floor, trimmed hats, sheet music and muslin underwear were sent flying everywhere, the result of a broken skylight. The loss in merchandise and glass panes, 52 of which were broken, will probably foot up in the thousands. Stock is being taken at the Globe, to determine the exact loss.

MRS. DUNLAP LOSES $200,000

But She Will Not Prosecute Executor as Result of Shortage Which Caused His Resignation.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Experts are at work on the books of R. Dunlap & Co. to ascertain the exact amount of the shortage which led to the resignation of Gustave C. Henry, the treasurer. It is feared that the loss, which falls more heavily upon the estate of Robert Dunlap than upon the hat manufacturing corporation, will be $200,000 or more.

It is said by persons in a position to know that no criminal proceedings had been started against Mr. Henry. A member of his household was quoted as saying: "I do not know what the extent of Mr. Henry's difficulties are. I am led to believe that he has been speculating in Wall street heavily. Mr. Henry went to Mrs. Dunlap, the widow of Robert Dunlap, who is now president of the Dunlap corporation, and told everything."

Mrs. Amelia Dunlap is not inclined to prosecute Mr. Henry. He was one of the executors of the estate of her husband, valued at $850,000, and was one of the most trusted of all the employes of the company.

STRUCK BY FLYING EMERY.

Machinist Receives Serious Injuries While Grinding Steel.

Henry Neumann, 37 years old, living at 1900 North Broadway, was struck by pieces of an emery wheel Thursday morning at the works of the Fred J. Swaine Co., where he is a machinist.

Neumann was grinding down a piece of steel when the wheel broke. Although the fragments were scattered across the shop, he was the only person in direct line. He received a scalp wound on the forehead six inches long.

SHERIDAN TAPESTRIES TAXED.

General's Widow Must Pay Though Government Borrows Them.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 6.—The magnificent collection of tapestries owned by the late Gen. Philip H. Sheridan, which has hung in the National Museum for 29 years, has been assessed by the district board at $15,000 and Mrs. Irene Rucker Sheridan, widow of the general, will have to pay a yearly tax of $225 on the same.

Counsel for the district sustain the tax board. Mrs. Sheridan holds that these tapestries have never been regarded by her as personal property.

There are a large number of private collections on exhibition in the National Museum, and it is probable Congress will be asked to exempt such property from taxation, so long as it remains on public exhibition.

Placing the Blame.

Cal—So the doctor brought you a little ... over the other night, eh?
Tom—Yes; I guess it was the doctor done it. Any, I heard him tellin' pa some time ago 'at if pa didn't pay his old bill he'd make trouble fur him.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

LEAGUE PARK IS A FIELD OF MUD

Still the Cardinals and Reds Hope to Play Thursday's Game—General Baseball Gossip.

...e Park's infield was in great condi... ...ud-pie making Thursday morn... ...rdly up to form as a spot for the ...and Reds to fight out their an... ...ences upon. The heavy rains ...day made the diamond look like ...cake that had been out all night. ...ague Park it was stated that a ...would put the field in shape for ...d that it was the intention of the ...to bring off the game, provided no ...rain fell.

...wing and McFarland are the pitchers ...nounced for the Cincinnatis and Car...nals, respectively.

A critic in Chicago says of the White Sox that the club is now to be considered only in the light of "next year" and that hopes for the present season have been given up. It may be remarked that the sacrifice was not very great.

The same may be said of the St. Louis clubs, both of which now bear a strong resemblance to the White Sox in the matter of "next year" doings.

For those who bet that the Browns would finish higher in the American League race than would the Cardinals in their organization the season still has something in store.

But for the managements, it is merely a case of receipts and hopes for next season. McAleer is turning his attention to the rising generation and has his eye fixed on several pitchers. Minor leaguers, however, are loth to let go the star men at this time, and the most that can be obtained from managers is a promise of first bid, which means nothing.

Donovan is also casting about for new material, and is said to have landed a fair catch in Edward Taylor, a Dallas amateur who is expected to join the Cardinals in a few days. Taylor pitched for the Denton Athletic Club and turned some remarkable games.

The Browns have an excellent chance to pull up to the top of the second division by the end of the season. The club has shaken itself together and is hitting a much better clip.

With Sudhoff a sure winner, Powell in form again, Siever a reliable twirler and Wright a member of the staff, the club should pull in front of the White Sox and possibly the New Yorks and Detroit. The club is comparatively few games behind, and a little luck can send it up. Anything like pennant hopes have been throttled long ago.

The Cardinals appear to have landed as high as they can go. Boston is considerably in the lead of Donovan's bunch, and will be hard to overtake.

Something will be stirring in the National League in a few days. Tim Hurst is back on the list of umpires once more. Hurst never needs the authority of the league president and a corps of police to enforce his decisions.

Might was right with Timothy in the old days and he was always willing to show his correctness through the ordeal of fists.

Hurst is one of the best umpires in the game, because of his steadiness. Neither mob nor players disturb Timothy from the transaction of his business. Hurst will probably be less impatient of protest than any other umpire in the business.

"Roaring Bill" Kennedy, discarded by Brooklyn and New York, is making a pitching record with the Pittsburg team this season. He leads the twirlers in the National League with a percentage of .818. In 11 games pitched Kennedy has won nine.

Joe McGinnity, the Giants' pitcher, has done well. He has pitched 32 games. He won 21 of them, lost 10 and tied 1.

"Christy" Mathewson has pitched 26 games, 17 of which he won. Only 20 pitchers in the National League have a percentage of .500 or more.

Napoleon Lajoie, the heavy-hitting infielder of the Cleveland team, leads the batters in the American League. In 14 games he went to the bat 54 times and made 25 hits. His batting average is .367, 20 points more than that of "Chick" Stahl of the Boston team.

The record Harry Thielman is making with the Jersey City team is almost sure to result in his coming back to one of the big leagues next season.

Gene De Montreville, now managing the Montreal team of the Eastern League, will get $1500 for two months' work. That was the figure he asked for and was granted when he left Washington. He had a good offer from the Philadelphia National League club.

Kittridge, the old Boston catcher, leads all American League backstops in fielding without an error or passed ball in 18 games. "Bill" Clarke is the leading first baseman. "Hobe" Ferris is the crack second baseman, while Collins of Boston and Lave Cross of Philadelphia are tied for first honors as third baseman. Moran of Washington leads the shortstops, and "Bill" Lush the outfielders.

KELLEY CALLED TO CINCINNATI

Reds Will Be Without Their Leader for a Week.

Capt. Kelley of the Cincinnati Reds will be absent from the games to be played here this series. Kelley was called home by illness in his family. His wife and children are at Rehoba Beach, Md. Kelley will rejoin his club next Wednesday at Philadelphia. Peitz will probably cover second base during the series here.

World's Pool Champions to Play.

A world's champion pool match is announced for next October by Frank Benson of the Broadway poolrooms. Arrangements have been made with Grant Eby, Clearwater, Stoffe, Horgan, Hueston and other experts to take part in the contest. A purse of $1000 and the championship emblem, valued at $300, will be played for.

50c Silks, 15c a Yard.

DID you ever buy a pure silk fabric for 15c a yard? This opportunity is yours tomorrow. A Japanese silk importer had more silks than money. Needing some of the latter very badly, he sold a considerable quantity to our buyer at a great sacrifice, hence our ability to offer various silks, including checks, plaids, self-colored cords and plisse effects, suitable for waists, dresses, wrappers, kimonas, children's wear, etc., at a lower price than a good cotton costs—positively 50c quality—per yard..... 15c

Would You Buy Imported Wash Fabrics If You Could Get Them for ⅓ Price?

WE rather think so, that is why we anticipate a quick clearance of our entire stock of high-grade wash fabrics on main floor. Don't say you don't need any. You will be able to use them in a very short while, if not now, then you will be glad you bought. Look how they are priced.

MUDDERS WILL GET THE DELMAR MONEY

Heavy Going Upsets the Ordinary Calculations on a Featureless Program.

BY R. D. WALSH.

The program arranged for today is an ordinary one. It is really featurless. The third race at five furlongs for 2-year-olds will probably be the most interesting. Six juveniles will sport silk in this event. On a fast track, Follies Bergeres would probably win this race, but her ability in the mud has not yet been tested. Tom Kiley is known to revel in this kind of going, and against an ordinary field of this kind he should have little difficulty in winning. Wood's Perry—in this race—is a stranger to the local tracks, and has no record. Milkirk's race yesterday was not good enough to make him appear dangerous here. His trainer, Mr. Nolan, thought well of him, but his showing was a keen disappointment. On her class, Follies Bergeres should run second, and, if she can negotiate the mud, may give Tom Kiley a close brush for first place.

The fourth race, a selling affair at a mile, has only five candidates engaged. W. B. Gates is the best muddler in the bunch.

It is hard to select this horse to win in any company and in any going. He performs so acrobatically that one does not know where to place him, whether in the category of stake horses or that of selling platers. He seldom runs two race alike. There is another stranger in this race, known as George W. Dasch, and the only thing that can recommend him is that he is bred by Gleneig, and that his get are the best mudlarks known on the American turf. Still his record is a poor one and he does not look dangerous. If Montana Peeress can run as well over a heavy track as a fast one she may beat Gates. The Rice horse would much prefer a longer distance, as his forte is in stretch-running and a distance of ground.

The fifth race is a selling affair at a mile and a sixteenth for platers. Galanthus is said to be a marvel in the mud, but he has run a few races at Delmar over a heavy track and his performances were anything but brilliant. He may be a horse that runs well at a long price. Class Leader is really a good mudder, but his last race, run over a heavy track, was a bad one. Whiten is said to love the mud, and with only 85 pounds up should go well here. Look out for her if she is ridden by Higgins. Doctor Hart looks dangerous here.

He ran such a good second to Memphian yesterday that he must be given a royal chance here. His performance yesterday clearly established the fact that he is partial to heavy going. Sir Paul may do better today than he did last week.

Lynch is probably the best mud horse in the last race, but he does not like the impost of 114 pounds. Still he is no worse off in that respect than the others, and what he loses in one direction he makes up in another. He is almost certain to be in the money. The opening race is for maiden 2-year-olds at four and one-half furlongs. The only way to beat this race is to stay off it. Playing maiden 2-year-olds is a most unprofitable speculation. The best bet in this race will be Ann Dear to show. She will be ridden by Troxler. Allegrette is the one I like here because of her good second to Lona S. July 14. Bessie Kirby has a good chance to run third.

The second race is the hardest one of the day. Handicapped as he is with such a name it is hard to see how Hydrophobia can win.

Still, his last race gives him a chance. The Cahn mare, Cressida, seems to me to have the best chance to win. Half the horses entered in this race have never started at Delmar and consequently there is no line on their present form. One of them may be a "ringer."

STUART STICKNEY HAS CHAMPIONSHIP CHANCES

St. Louis Golfer, Undefeated at Cleveland Tourney, Is a Favorite in the Western Amateur Finals for First Honors.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 6.—If form displayed in the matches played here so far in the contest for the western amateur golf championship count for anything, R. Stuart Stickney of St. Louis has at least a chance for the first place honors, which will be decided before the close of the week.

Stickney has won with consummate ease from every opponent who has paired with him, and these have been, in at least two instances, men of reputation in the golf world.

His steady, consistent play has attracted attention of the galleries here daily, and he has been installed favorite with the local enthusiasts.

Stickney's driving has been exceptional. Even in his earlier matches, when he was unfamiliar with the course, his play stood out above that of his opponents. His work on the greens yesterday was excellent and drew many favorable comments.

Stickney today will have the hardestest match of the tournament in John M. Sellers of Chicago. Sellers is a good man, but Stickney is picked to win.

Other St. Louis Players Beaten.

The other four St. Louis entries were beaten off yesterday. Lambert and W. A. Stickney both fell before W. A. Carhart in the morning and afternoon games. McKittrick lost to that good player, P. Byers, and A. T. Stickney went down before Lee Richmond.

Sixteen men survived yesterday's play and will take part in today's contests. The contest is considered now to be between five men, Stickney of St. Louis, E. Byers of Allegheny, Louis James, the national amateur champion, and Walter and Chandler Egan of Chicago.

James yesterday reached his real speed. He went the rounds in 77, which is four below bogie. Byers is considered a strong candidate and the Egan boys are expected to be in at the death.

Today James has an easy match in Bole of Cleveland; Byers meets John Towne of Chicago, and W. Egan will have the hardest match of the day in Carhart.

TRIED TO WORK A RANK "RINGER"

"Untrue" Was at the Post When the Delmar Judges Spotted the Fake —Owner Is Missing.

One of the most bungling attempts to perpetrate fraud on the Delmar Jockey Club was attempted at the West End course Wednesday. A "ringer" was introduced into the opening race of the day.

The event was for 2-year-olds exclusively, and a bay mare was entered under the name of Untrue. When betting commenced on the race the horse opened at 30 to 1, and by a steady and persistent play in every book her price was hammered down to 6 to 1.

When the judges looked at the betting quotations, they were surprised to find that a filly which had never done anything and about which comparatively nothing was known, should have been so strongly supported. They at once grew suspicious.

When the horses were on their way to the post Judge Brady and Handicapper Maginn observed that "Untrue" looked unusually large for a 2-year-old. Jockey Higgins, who had the mount, was called to the judge's stand and told to return to the paddock with his horse.

"Untrue" was immediately examined by Mr. John S. Bratton, a competent authority, and pronounced a 4-year-old. All bets were at once declared off, and 20 minutes given for a new book on the race.

It was a close call for the "bookies," who would have lost heavily had "Untrue" been returned the winner.

All told, about $1000 was bet on the "ringer" at average odds of 15 to 1, so that the ring would have lost $15,000 had the transaction been as successful as intended.

The identity of the "ringer" is not clearly established, some alleging that she was Natalie H., others Edna T.

The mare was entered in the name of John Rogers, but he is not here now.

It is said that he went to Texas to clean up the pool rooms of that state on this good thing. The animal seemed to be in charge of a man named A. R. Rhodes, who brought her from the Fair Grounds, where she was stabled.

It is surmised that the "ringer" was brought here from Newport, which is under the ban of the jockey club. Very little is known of Rhodes. He denied that he knew anything about a "ringer," and said that he only acted in accordance with the instructions of his employer.

According to the laws of Missouri, "ringing" is a felony, punishable by fine and imprisonment.

DUST FROM THE TRACK.

The departure of Sire's string from Delmar has robbed piker as well as plunger of opportunities to hit the bookies. Sire's Ivernia, Clifton Forge and Ancke were good things nearly every time they ran and there were not a few at the county track who played these horses simply because Sire owned them. Sosen, another of Sire's string and a full sister to Clifton Forge, was also followed in her two races, but this filly proved the exception to the rule. She was entered once at 30 to 1 and again at 15 to 1, but disappointed her followers both times. Sire thus far has not made the killings at Chicago he did at Delmar.

Tom Collins, a horse of some local fame last year and formerly the property of the Fizer stable, was restored to good standing at the last meeting of the Western Jockey Club. Collins is the horse that carried Sylvester Von Puhl in one of the gentlemen riders' races at Kinloch.

Eufalla's victory by a nose over Harry Griffith Tuesday netted a clean $3000 for Billy Walsh, who is now doing his speculating from the ground.

RUNNING RECORD MADE BY ULCTMA

Daughter of Lightning Clips a Quarter of a Second Off Mark for Three and a Half Furlongs.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 6.—The world's running record for three and one-half furlongs was cut one-quarter of a second by Uletma, who ran the distance in 41¼ seconds at The Meadows yesterday. The new record was made in the third race, in which Judge Thomas, the world's record quarter horse, was one of the starters.

Uletma is by Salvado out of Lightning, and made her initial appearance at The Meadows in June last. She is owned by W. F. Robb of this city.

There is another theory going the rounds to the effect that the Corbett followers are waiting for a higher price before placing their money.

This appears to be borne out by the statements of those who have seen Corbett that he is undoubtedly in fine shape and will give Jeffries all he wants. Plenty of more opinions in favor of Corbett can be had, but little money is forthcoming. This is taken to mean that it is being held back for odds.

The price now quoted is 2¼ and the man that gives it is a candidate for St. Vincent's. So is the man that takes it.

Boxing will soon be in full swing again in Philadelphia and Boston. The matchmakers of the various clubs in those cities have decided to resume business during the latter part of this month. There will be five clubs holding bouts in the Quaker City and four in Boston.

TENNIS MATCHES ON AGAIN

R. F. Doherty, English Contender, Is Able to Play and a Heavy Day's Sport Is Expected.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 6.—The matches for the international tennis championships, which were postponed yesterday on account of the rain, will be played here today, weather permitting.

The doubles and the second round of the singles will be contested if both are fresh enough.

Only the singles were scheduled. Doherty, brother of the Englishman who was compelled to let his go by default owing to illness, again, and is expected to take a day's struggle.

QUEEN DOROTHY IS BACK IN HER HOME

Beautiful Little Idol of the City Hospital Receives Blessing as She Leaves in Her Coach.

Little "Queen Dorothy" Remfre, who reigned for four days over the City Hospital, has removed to another throne room.

Wednesday afternoon, after the big storm had subsided, she was wrapped carefully, her broken leg—which is bound to the "plank" that she wanted removed so she might celebrate her birthday—was more thickly swathed and she was lifted tenderly into her "royal coach."

To those who did not know that it bore Queen Dorothy this coach looked very much like an ambulance.

Many tender good-byes and whispered "God bless hers" were said as Dorothy, with her little pink parasol and flowers and pictures and yellow envelope of silver and all the other pretty things that had been given her, started for her home at 2625 Gravois avenue.

Dorothy was brave, as she has been all through her suffering since that big street car ran her down last Saturday, and though her coach rocked and bumped, despite the most careful driving, she did not complain.

At home she was welcomed right royally. Her "Auntie Laura,"—she who gave her the little slipper that the street car ruined, and the pink parasol that opens and shuts—was there, and so were the father and the little brother and sisters of Dorothy, and her little playmates, and friends from many blocks away—all wanting to know how Dorothy did, and what the doctors had said, and when would she be well enough to play again?

For the people who know Dorothy, and who had seen her blue eyes and her light hair and had known her happy way, had loved her very much before ever she was installed as queen of the hearts of those who dwell at the City Hospital.

It was good news that Mrs. Remfre had to give of the little sufferer: for the hospital doctors had declared with smiles that the broken leg and the crushed foot were healing as fast as they possibly could heal. As for the scratches and bruises, they didn't amount to anything.

And best of all was the news that Dorothy was recovering from what doctors call the "shock," and which was a great deal more dangerous than the wounds. It was the shock and not the pain that kept Queen Dorothy awake for three nights after the accident, and only when the doctor had counteracted this did she fall asleep on the morning of her birthday.

Dorothy was glad to get back home. But she was very, very tired, and soon she was asleep. Thursday morning she was bright and cheerful, and when her mamma would let other children come into the room she told them wonderful tales of when she was queen in the "doctor's great big house."

It will be several weeks before Dorothy can take the "plank" off of her leg and walk with the aid of crutches; and it will be a much longer time before she can walk without the crutches.

PICNIC FOR 500 POOR CHILDREN ON THE WHITE HOUSE GROUNDS

For Entire Afternoon Little Ones Will Have Complete Possession of the Beautiful Park While Marine Band Plays for Them.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Five hundred poor children will have an outing in the White House lot Saturday afternoon.

President Roosevelt, by long distance telephone from Oyster Bay, has instructed Col. Symons, the officer in charge, to open the White House grounds at 1 o'clock and permit the little folk to remain there until the close of the Saturday concert by the Marine band.

Heretofore, children have had access to the White House grounds only on egg rolling day and at the time of the Marine band concerts.

Col. Symons says the absence of the President's family made it possible to grant the request for the use of the grounds for an entire afternoon.

Five hundred tickets will be issued. Each child will receive a souvenir.

EMMET'S SKELETON MISSING?

One Found in His Supposed Grave Is Five Inches Longer Than His Should Be.

DUBLIN, Aug. 6.—At the instigation of Dr. Robert Emmet of New York an examination was made yesterday of the grave supposed to be that of the patriot, Emmet.

A skeleton was found, said to be that of a man six feet high, whereas Emmet was only five feet seven inches.

A curious circumstance in connection with the examination was that the skull, instead of being found lying prone, attached to the trunk, was found lying in an upright position which, as Emmet was beheaded, may strengthen the theory that the remains were his. But the matter is still regarded as doubtful.

Willing to Forget.

She: I know I'm not good looking, but people forget my face when I sing.

He: Won't you sing now?

EXTRAORDINARY MILL REMNANT SALE!

Remnants Direct From the Mills!

Our 6th Semi-Annual Sale of Mill Remnants promises to eclipse all its predecessors. Mr. Gentles, who has just returned from an extended trip through the Eastern manufacturing centers, says it has been the most successful in his experience. The great Mills of Lowell, Utica, Mokawk Valley, Amsterdam, etc., were all visited, and all contributed to swell the immense gathering of Mill Remnants which he has landed in St. Louis, all on sale at "Mill Cost," which is away below prices for the same goods in the full piece. Look for the Green Ticket, and come early.

TROLLEY INJURES AGED PEDESTRIAN

Antoine Simon, Father of Health Commissioner, Victim of Olive Street Accident.

Antoine Simon, aged 71, father of Health Commissioner Simon, was struck by an Olive street car this morning and severely injured.

Mr. Simon was crossing Olive street at Compton avenue. It is supposed that he did not see the approaching westbound car. The motorman did his best to stop, but the car struck the man with terrific force.

He was knocked to the ground, receiving three severe contusions of the head and a fractured arm. He was picked up by George Cowie and conveyed to his home, 3215 Lawton avenue, in a buggy.

The injuries are serious.

The motorman of the car is E. K. Merthal and the conductor C. E. Cole. They were held by the police pending an investigation.

NO "GO" AT CHURCH SOCIAL

Father Long, With Aid of Rain, Prevents Boxing Contest on All Saints' Church Lawn.

Rev. Father John S. Long, pastor of All Saints' Catholic Church, thwarted the plans for a boxing match at a lawn social given on the church grounds by his parishioners Wednesday night.

Thomas Golden and Z. Hamerly, amateur boxers, were to meet in a four-round bout, and at 10:30 o'clock promoters of the match insisted that it would take place.

Father Long said it had been arranged against his wishes and would not be carried on if he could prevent it.

The church grounds were brilliantly lighted for the social, and dancing and music entertained the crowd until the rain drove them into the schoolroom, where the music continued without boxing.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The Rock Island railroad has increased the wages of passenger conductors 12 per cent and those in the freight service 15 per cent, thus averting the threatened strike.

SANDBAGGERS ROB SPEECHLESS MAN

Men Described by Deaf Mute as His Assailants Were Well Dressed.

Chris W. Trierman, a deaf mute, reported to the police at the Central District Station that he was assaulted and robbed of $185 by two well-dressed highwaymen at 4 o'clock Thursday morning.

When Trierman arrived at the Four Courts he made known by signs his wish for pencil and paper. With this he informed the police of the robbery.

He stated that he was walking west on Market street. When near Twenty-third street, he says, he was struck from behind with what he thinks was a sand bag. He fell to the ground stunned, but not insensible. The two men, he says, then bent over him, one holding him while the other searched his pockets and secured the money, all of which was in bills inclosed in a wallet.

Trierman said he was a stranger in the city, and that he was staying at a rooming house at Tenth and Market streets.

He described the men who he says attacked him as follows: One of medium height, with brown mustache, wearing a dark suit and black fedora hat, and about 30 years old. The other tall, smooth faced, with black derby coat and light trousers, with black derby hat, and apparently about 25 years old.

The police told Trierman to return to the Four Courts in the afternoon.

PRIZE "SAENGERS" FOR PIKE.

Adolphus Busch Desires to Bring Berlin Society Here.

Adolphus Busch, now in Germany, is interesting himself in trying to secure the services of the great Berlin singing society which won all the principal prizes offered by the Kaiser at the song festival held at Frankfort-on-the-Main, as a World's Fair attraction. There are 220 of the singers.

Mr. Busch also is attempting to bring the famous German military band to this country in 1904, and negotiations in this matter are well advanced. Mr. Busch is interested in the Tyrolean village concession and it is understood that he would have the singers and the band as features of that attraction.

FAIR WORK LOSES 10 DAYS BY STORM

Death and Heavy Property Loss Result From Violent Breaking of Hot Term.

The damage to the World's Fair buildings from the storm of Wednesday afternoon, which resulted in one death and serious injuries to 10 workmen, will be repaired within 10 days, according to the estimate of Director of Works Taylor, who made a tour of the grounds immediately after the storm.

As told in an extra edition of the Post-Dispatch, those injured were working about the partly constructed agricultural building. This building stands high on the hill, west of Skinker road, and the trusses had just been erected, with no time for bracing them.

Theodore Richter of Kirkwood, who was killed, was a florist, and was working in the rosebeds near the agricultural building. He was struck by a flying timber. The other workmen were injured by the falling scaffolding and trusses that went down before the wind.

The injured were: A. R. Clark, 213 South Twelfth street, skull fractured; Henry Fahrnkopf, 3628 North Eleventh, left leg broken; Chas. Covington, 2212 Franklin, right arm broken; Adrian Smith, 2919 Lucas, and Wm. Koch, 1007 North Garrison, bones of feet broken.

The damage to the completed buildings and those nearly completed was surprisingly small.

The storm, which extended over St. Louis and the suburbs, came as the result of the intense heat of the day and the change in atmospheric pressure, as shown by the rapid rise of the barometer.

The wind that preceded the downpour of rain was almost equal to a cyclone. At the World's Fair grounds and in other parts of the city objects close together were blown in different directions. The anemometer on the Federal building registered the velocity of the wind at 48 miles an hour. At the World's Fair grounds it reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour.

POOR HOUSE FOR A RICH MAN

Hotels and Hospitals Refused to Admit Patient Who Was Suffering With Cancer.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Possessed of property said to be worth thousands and denied admission to hotels and hospitals because he is suffering from cancer, Andrew Murray of Brooklyn has been admitted to the County Poor House here. His pockets were lined with bills when he entered the institution.

Murray had to give up work last January on account of a cancer under his tongue. He attracted considerable attention by cutting out some of the cancerous growth with his own hand.

MIDWEEK GOSSIP OF THEATER AND GARDEN

The Columbia's bill this week is varied with good things. George C. Boniface, Jr., and Bertha Waltzinger are doing some excellent work with their sketch "The Woman Who Hesitates Is Won." Robert Fulgora, the transfigurator, with his impersonations of great men, proves himself a finished artist. Artie Hall is scoring a hit in her interpretation of the southern coon shouter and the Five Nosses offer a musical act out of the ordinary.

Coming to the Columbia next week are Bobby Gaylor and company, Lew Sully, Arenson, Josephine Gassman and Picks, Martini and Maximillian, Princess Losores, Johnson and Wells, Stella Reinhart, Burton and Burton and The Ogdens.

"The Geezer" is proving a drawing card at Delmar Garden this week with its pretty Chinese nettings and catchy music. But for a few eccentricities one almost forgets that it is a travesty and not the real oriental comic opera. Several of the chorus numbers are decidedly pretentious and the individual work of the principals is above the average. Taken as a whole, the piece is much more of a production than anything seen at Delmar this summer.

"Next week "Pogasse Cafe" is to be repeated. It was given early in the season and made a hit with the small-sized audiences which braved the cold, rainy weather and the management decided to give the midsummer gardeners a chance to see it.

A change in the cast is announced for next week when Miss Catherine Linyard will become the prima donna at the garden for the balance of the season. Miss Linyard has but recently finished a starring tour of 50 weeks in "Pickings from Puck."

Manager Russell has secured a strong drawing card for the opening of the Imperial Sunday matinee, when he will present the powerful melodrama, "Heart of the Ozarks," founded on the escapades of the "Younger Brothers." The advance sale is the biggest in the history of the house and Manager Russell is elated over the outlook for the coming season.

The Sieger Sisters are making a pronounced hit at Lemp's Park this week. Among the other entertainers on the bill are Coxey & Courtney, Mitchell & Ward, James O'Neill, Elenora Bunce, Kohl and Alecia and the Georgia jubilee singers.

As long as George Primrose can stand on his feet he will be a capital entertainer on the vaudeville boards. That has been more than determined by the immense houses which he is drawing at Forest Park Highlands this week in the face of the hottest spell of the summer. Charming Paquita and Press Eldridge share the headline honors with Primrose. Eva Mudge is exceedingly winning, and Lefebro and the Merrills could not be surpassed as entertainers of good merits. The new bill next week will consist of Jessie Couthoui, Burton & Brooks, the Josselin trio of aerialists, the Katy-Dids, and if obtainable, the Piccoli Midgets. Primrose & Paquita will play their final engagements at the Highlands.

The current vaudeville bill at Hashagen's contains the Coney Island ballet girls, Welsiogel, the strong man; Franklin and McNutt, Kalhass, the mysterious Greek; Carl Frischer, Myrtle Pausch, Frank Dunn and Cordelia Roberts.

Announced among others for next week are the Karmas, in a specialty of a novel and unique nature; the two Goyers, who are expert rolling globe artists, and Franklin and McNutt, in a German comedy sketch.

The "Three Guardsmen" at Koerner's Garden is drawing large audiences nightly. Lawrence Hanley as D'Artagnan is the ideal military hero—ready with sword, with wit and with kindness. Victory Bateman as Constance presents a most winsome picture of the loyal Frenchwoman. The love scene between D'Artagnan and Constance, when the soldier threatens to cut off her spy-husband's nose, is a stirring one.

Manager H. Edward Rice promises "Richelieu" for next week.

"A Millionaire Tramp," which comes to Haylin's with the medines of the coming week, is a new play, and is called by its author a "sensational comedy." It is credited with having a well told and connected story, with the development of at least seven distinct types of character. In his imagination at least he is the possessor of a fortune that would have made Monte Cristo envious. The situations are novel and original.

Haylin's is having one of the best opening weeks of any of its seasons. "An Orphan's Prayer," the attraction of the present week, is a play of intense heart interest. It is presented with special scenery and by a company of merit. Miss Nettie de Coursey has made a decided creation in the character of the persecuted heroine.

Crawford's New Theater is to be christened in an appropriate manner by Miss Cora Van Tassell, at the opening performance of the new theater. The time set to baptise "the baby" is Sunday afternoon; August 9, and the ceremony to be used will be similar to that of naming a battleship.

In looking over the numerous plays in the theatrical field Manager Crawford has selected for the opening attraction the military drama, "The Volunteer." Miss Van Tassel is well known here socialy and artistcally.

Seymour and his band at the Cottage took first advantage of the blessed change in the weather last night by presenting a very enjoyable program replete with novelties in ensemble as well as solo work. For the rest of the week there will be an entire change of program. The next matinee is announced for Saturday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Robyns are scoring just as heavily this week at Mannion's Park in their sketch, "The Counsel for the Defense," as when they appeared there last season. Stanley and Nealy, blackface comedians; Armstrong and Holly, comedy farceurs; Ferguson and Passmore, singers and dancers and Mayme Mitchell make up the balance of a good show. Announced by the management for next week are Ines Mecusker, prima donna soprano; Ramza and Arno, European eccentrics; Trask and Rogers, blackface singers and eccentric dancers; Castellat and Hall, comedy duo, Ely and Fray, acrobats, and James B. Donovan, the Irish comedian.

The double bill of vaudeville and band concerts is pleasing large audiences at Suburban Park this week. Beginning next Sunday afternoon Innes' spectacular musical production, "War and Peace," will be put on at the Suburban. Four vocal soloists of national reputation, a chorus of 200 local singers and the Innes band, increased to 60 members for the occasion, are to be used in the presentation. The soloists engaged are: Mabel Geneva Sharp, soprano; Grace Whisler Misiek, contralto; Alfred D. Shaw, tenor, and Edwin Charles Rowdon, basso. The quartet comprises four of the best singers on the American concert stage, and their presence at the Innes festival will lend much additional interest to the enterprise.

The festival chorus is being put through vigorous rehearsal under the direction of Prof. Fred Fischer of the Odeon, and the work of this body will be one of the distinct features.

BROADWAY AND MORGAN

AFTER STOCK-TAKING SALE OF

MUSLIN UNDERGARMENTS

We were in hopes that our July Clearing Sale would reduce this stock to its normal condition, but the inventory figures show plainly that an excessive overstock still exists. We have therefore further lowered the already low prices, till now they barely cover the cost of the materials alone. Included are GOWNS, SKIRTS, CORSET COVERS, DRAWERS—made from the best Nainsook, Cambric and Muslin—in scores upon scores of excellent styles. The sewing, shaping and finishing are perfection. Now, don't judge the qualities by these low prices, as the garments are fully worth one-third to one-half more than we ask for them in this sale.

GIRL'S AUNT AGAINST MOTHER

Woman Seeks to Compel Sister-in-Law to Return Child Placed in Humane Society's Care.

An early marriage after the death of her first husband is at the bottom of the troubles of Mrs. Viola Busekrus of 1833 Benton street with Miss Alice Nantz, her sister-in-law, of 2622 Locust street, and, as a result of the enmity, the mother has begun habeas corpus proceedings to compel Miss Nantz to return to her possession Jeannette Nantz, 3 years old, and the child of Mrs. Busekrus by her first marriage. Mrs. Busekrus first married a brother of Miss Nantz, and a short while after his death married her present husband.

Miss Nantz declares that the child is with the Humane Society, and that it was taken by her with the mother's consent. She says she will oppose the mother's claim to the child on the ground of ill treatment.

OLD HORNS TELL OF RIVER RACES

Trophies of Days When Mississippi Was Speedway of Palace Steamers.

THEY NOW ADORN A STABLE

Capt. Hunter Ben Jenkins, River Patriarch, Tells How Three Boats Lost and Won Them.

"I see they have found the old antlers that the Robert E. Lee won from the Natchez in the historic race from New Orleans to Memphis 33 years ago," said Capt. Hunter Ben Jenkins, the patriarch of riverdom, Wednesday morning.

"And they have found them in a stable in Memphis! To such base uses do people of the modern day put the famous trophies of the times when steamboating was in its glory!

"I wouldn't be surprised, now, to hear that somebody down about Cairo was using as a chicken coop the part of the wheelhouse that Cap'n Canno cut out and threw overboard on that same trip.

"Those were great horns, and they had a great day on the hurricane deck over the great bell of the great old Robert E. Lee. I have seen them there often—immense spread, great height, and more prongs to them than I would think of numbering.

"These horns—antlers I guess they are called now, but in the good old days they were horns—were first the property of the steamer Princess, which used to be one of the fastest packets in the New Orleans-Cincinnati trade.

"The Princess was given the horns by citizens of New Orleans after she had made a remarkably fast trip to Cincinnati. Other boats tried to win 'em, and they burnt out boilers and burnt up cargoes, and threatened to bust their boilers a dozen times, trying to beat the Princess' time But they couldn't do it.

"The Natchez tried for the Princess' horns, and got 'em. Don't remember the time of the trip, but it was from New Orleans to Cairo, and it took the horns. That's an old steamboat phrase that I'll tell you about presently.

"In 1870 the Natchez quit wearing the horns. That was when the Robert E. Lee began to prove herself the speediest boat that ever ran in American waters. The Natchez people didn't think the Lee could beat 'em; the Lee people knew she could.

Greatest Race In River Annals.

"And that is how the race came about.

The boats got ready at New Orleans They lightened themselves until there was hardly a pound of extra weight or air resisting wood about them. The Lee cut out the back part of her wheel boxes and other woodwork that didn't do any good and might interfere with speed. The Natchez did likewise. The only extra ballast the Natchez carried was the horns; the Lee didn't have any.

"They started from New Orleans together at 5 o'clock in the evening of June 30, 1870, and it was nip and tuck all the way up. No use to tell about the race itself—how they stuffed the boilers and Cap'n Cannon took his fuel from barges towed by fast boats without stopping.

"The Lee got here just about noon on the Fourth of July, having made the trip in 3 days, 18 hours and 30 minutes. The Natchez was about four hours behind her. And the levee was packed with people as it never was packed before and never will be again.

"That race gave the horns to the Robert E. Lee, and there never was a boat that could take them from her. She wore them over her big bell until her end—I've seen them a hundred times, and each time they looked bigger and seemed to set prouder.

How Phrase Had Its Birth.

"O, yes, the origin of the phrase, 'take the horns.' It was in the Mississippi river trade, away back in 1856. I was a boy then, living at Lexington. The Polar Star was running in the Missouri trade, and she was a fast one, too. Cap'n C. D. Blossom, who died here a few days ago, was on her as clerk. Old Tom Briley was cap'n. The Polar Star got ready one trip, and with lightened boat started to see how fast she could make the run. She got to St. Joseph in two days and 20 hours. The citizens of St. Joseph got the finest pair of horns they could find, and Miss Fox, a beautiful girl, presented them to Cap'n Briley. It was understood that they were to be held by the Polar Star until some other boat beat her time.

"She held them for about a year. In 1857 the James H. Lucas, named for the father of the late Joe Lucas, and one of the early millionaires, and commanded by old Cap'n Andrew Windlan, started on a trip for the horns. The Lucas got to St. Joseph in two days and 12 hours, beating the Polar Star's time by eight hours. The Polar Star was in port at the time, and among those who gave the great ovation none was more hearty or graceful than Cap'n Briley of the Polar Star. He caught Cap'n Windlan by the hand and said, 'Andy, you take the horns.' And that's how the phrase originated.

FRIGHT FROM STORM FATAL.

East St. Louis Woman Feared Repetition of Cyclone.

Mrs. Margaret Riechmann of 1815 St. Louis avenue, East St. Louis, died of fright during the storm Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Reichmann lived in East St. Louis at the time of the cyclone of 1896 and ever since that time has been afraid of storms. When the storm broke Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Reichmann was in a west room of her house. She ran to the window and watched the increasing violence of the wind.

When it was at its worst her daughter, who was in the next room, heard her fall just after a sharp clap of thunder. She ran into the room and found her mother lying unconscious by the window. Her death, which came soon after, was pronounced due to fright.

Members Can Pronounce Name.

Judge Jesse A. McDonald has been formally thanked by the members of the Gemeinnuetziger Schwaben-Frauen Unterstuetzungs Verein for permitting them to incorporate by that name, and overruling the objection of Referee M. K. McGrath that the name was "unpronounceable." The members established the fact before Judge McDonald that they could pronounce it, and now they have formally thanked him for understanding them.

Folk Cancels Two Dates.

Circuit Attorney Folk has been compelled by pressure of official duty to cancel his engagements to speak at Hunansville Saturday, and at Mound City the following Tuesday. He hopes to be able to keep his engagement to speak at the Confederate reunion at Palmyra a week from Saturday.

FREE UNTIL CURED

PROVIDED YOU BEGIN BEFORE AUGUST 31st.

To all beginning treatment with Drs. Powell and Perkins, St. Louis' leading specialists, this month, to prove to the public that there is a PERMANENT CURE for CHRONIC DISEASES (that are curable) the doctors give their professional services FREE, and their treatment FREE, to all who apply before August 31. The only expense to the patient will be for the medicine ACTUALLY USED. This gives everyone the best treatment known to medical science.

ELECTRICITY

Cures deafness permanently by applying it to the ears. A mild current is passed through the ears, reducing all inflammation, relieving all thickened, shrunken conditions of ear drums. It also acts as a great nerve tonic, restoring and reviving every nerve fiber to a healthy condition.

$3 WILL CURE MANY.

UNDER THIS SPECIAL OFFER YOU ONLY PAY FOR THE MEDICINES ACTUALLY USED. Many will be cured for $3. The most stubborn and complicated case of chronic disease will not exceed $5 for one whole month.

If you have catarrh, if you are deaf, if you suffer from asthma, or lung trouble, if you have stomach, liver or kidney disease, or any other chronic ailment, this is your opportunity to obtain skilled medical treatment practically free.

WHY EXPERIMENT? WHY SPEND MONEY ON "FAKE PATENT MEDICINES," WHICH OFTEN CONTAIN COCAINE, OPIUM OR SOME OTHER DANGEROUS NARCOTIC, when you can get expert medical treatment practically free? THIS GRAND SPECIAL OFFER GOES INTO EFFECT AT ONCE AND HOLDS GOOD TO ALL WHO APPLY THIS MONTH. DO NOT DELAY. CALL OR WRITE AT ONCE. CONSULTATION, INCLUDING X-RAY EXAMINATION, FREE TO ALL.

This is the most liberal offer ever made by an American specialist. It is a genuine bona fide free test.

The doctors' great success lies in the fact that they are able to correctly diagnose each case, and will not accept money from an incurable case. If your case is incurable you will be told so free of charge.

Proper Time to Treat — In the summer nature helps the doctor. She offers no Obstacles. One month of summer treatment for Catarrh is worth two months of the most careful winter treatment. If all who suffer from catarrh were wise enough to devote a little time to treatment now, there would soon be few cases of catarrh to treat; cases of deafness would become rare; head noises a curiosity, and chronic coughs and consumption would be reduced to a minimum.

A FEW MARVELOUS CURES.

Mr. Solomon Mueller of Belleville, Ill., one of the oldest and best known citizens of that community, took a short course of treatment from The Powell Medical Institute for catarrh, and in speaking of the results said: "There really isn't much to say about my case; all there is to it is that I took a course of treatment from Dr. Powell for a bad case of Catarrh, Liver and Spleen trouble, and got well. I was so bad that I had to give up my work; at times the pain would be so severe in my side that I would have to sit or lie down wherever I was. Yes, you can say for me that the treatment is all that is claimed for it. It is not expensive, it costs next to nothing, but for results there is nothing to compare with it."

Mrs. John Kutzman, 604 Summit av., East St. Louis, was cured of a bad case of Catarrh of the nose, throat and stomach. Mr. John Brennan, 3021 Folsom av., was cured of deafness and head noises. Mr. Fritz Winkleman, Venice, Ill., was cured of catarrh and ringing in the ears. Mrs. Bertha Hopman, 3440 Illinois av., was cured of lung trouble. Mr. Fred Goss, 1935 Wyoming st., was cured of deafness. Mrs. George Hill, 3109 Lawton av., was cured of stomach trouble.

Baking powder may become even more dangerous than dynamite.

If honor is proved among thieves it does not make their theft creditable.

The bridge arbitrary is absorbing a large part of the prosperity of St. Louis.

For a lineal descendant of the Irish kings, King Edward speaks German remarkably well.

Wouldn't it be a good idea for the supreme court to give Editor Shepherd one of its famous rehearings and reverse itself?

A ST. LOUIS OPPORTUNITY.

Secretary Root's capable and well trained mind found no difficulty in getting to the essential points in the Merchants' bridge case and defining clearly the grounds upon which the question of the violation of the charter would be decided.

The secretary's action is in the nature of a writ of mandamus, compelling the bridge company to show cause why the bridge should not be forfeited under the provisions of the charter. Accepting the reported facts as prima facie evidence of the violation of the charter he demands of the company that it show that it has not violated the charter.

Mr. Root says that he does not want the interpretation of the law, but he wants the facts. It is purely a question of facts, and under the terms of his letter, if the facts show a consolidation of the bridges or that they have the same officers, or that they pool their earnings, the Merchants' bridge can be confiscated.

The superficial facts show a practical consolidation, if not by actual ownership of stock, at least through a lease, which, under the decision quoted by Mr. Judson in behalf of the people for the Post-Dispatch, has been declared a consolidation.

They show operation of the bridges and regulation of rates by the same management and the enjoyment of the earnings of both by one association. At least, some of the officers are in common.

All the facts may be obtained by the testimony of officers of the Merchants' Bridge and Terminal Railroad Association, by books of the corporations and through tariff schedules. The complete facts will show the exact relationship between the Eads and Merchants' bridges and the Terminal Railroad Association.

That there is a monopoly, whether the form of a monopoly in the organization has been avoided or not, can be absolutely proven. The monopoly is asserted in the circulars of the president of the Terminal Association and its financial agents, J. P. Morgan & Co. Every shipper in the city can testify to this fact and to its oppressing and hampering effect upon the business of the city.

If, as indicated in the dispatches from Washington, Secretary Root desires the testimony on this point, the business men of St. Louis can supply it in abundance. It is their duty to do so. It is their duty to show the government officials the monopoly character of the terminal combine and its oppressive action toward St. Louis. The way to an adjustment of the damaging and unfair conditions under which the terminal business of St. Louis is conducted is through complete publicity and the enforcement of the law.

The Business Men's League, through President Walbridge, promises to take up this matter and see that the business interests of St. Louis are properly represented. There is a petition now in circulation among the business men asking that the league take up and vigorously press the matter of securing St. Louis terminals and St. Louis bills of lading from all the railroads. The utterance of President Walbridge indicates a decided change for the better in the attitude of the league on this question of vital importance to St. Louis. It should take the leadership in this movement.

President Kingsland of the Manufacturers' Association also says that he will take up the matter with his association for the purpose of seeing that the manufacturing interests are properly represented in any government inquiry.

While the legal question concerning the violation of the charter of the Merchants' bridge will probably be determined by the facts of the relation between the two bridges, the government officials should not be lacking in information as to the actual existence of a monopoly of St. Louis bridges and terminals and in the effect of that monopoly on St. Louis commerce directly, and upon the commerce of the enormous territory contiguous to St. Louis.

United, vigorous action on the part of the citizens of St. Louis to obtain equitable terminal conditions will accomplish for this city the most beneficial stroke in its history. It will mark the beginning of an era of unparalleled growth.

The glamorous publicity of the minutest details of the papal conclave is due to the fact that popes are elected in secret session. Whenever the United States Senate desires everybody to know what goes on the doors are closed and an executive session is ordered, which proves again that the world is still deceived by humbug.

HON. JIM CRONIN ABROAD.

That iridescent statesman, the Hon. James H. Cronin, J. P., is going abroad. He will visit "Ireland and Europe." He insists upon this classification, presumably as a rebuke to the English sovereigns who have held his Hibernian forefathers in thrall so long. He does not know whether he will see King Edward, Kaiser Wilhelm, Czar Nicholas or Sultan Abdul Hamid or not. Neither does he care. A statesman who has been so signally honored at home, and who has tasted the sweets of temporal power, as has the Hon. James H. Cronin, J. P., could feel no envy while gazing upon the state of kings and princes.

"What's the use o' stayin' at home all the time?" inquires the Hon. James H. Cronin, J. P., with the naivete peculiar to St. Louis statesmen who have seen government as she is run by the bosses' elect. "When Dave Francis, Harry Hawes, Pierpont Morgan and Charlie Schwab can go to Ireland and Europe, I guess the Hon. Jim Cronin, J. P., of the First ward, St. Louis, don't have to hide hisself in obscurity. I ain't done nothin' t' pervent me from havin' a good time. A visit to Ireland and Europe strikes me as a good hunch, so I gets busy. Guess I'll drop in on Parliament, if they ain't takin' their summer vacation. Lord! They don't have no fun like I used to have when I was in the House of Delegates. You can bet on that."

The Hon. James H. Cronin, J. P., may never write a four-pound book on his impressions of "Ireland and Europe," but if properly approached by some of the staid journals on the other side he may furnish material for more than one heavy editorial concerning the pragmatical and ungrammatical statesmanship of our great cities, as represented in the obstrusive personality of the Hon. James H. Cronin, J. P.

It is by no means certain that Hon. James H. Cronin, J. P., will bring back any lasting impressions of the functions of monarchial government as seen in "Ireland and Europe," but what citizen of "Ireland and Europe" who shall be permitted to gaze upon the aldermanic proportions of the Hon. James H. Cronin, J. P., and to sit beneath the spell of his tongue, will not be given over to wonderment at the potentialities of a "government of the people, by the people and for the people?"

The statement of the Terminal officials that the freight congestion has been relieved, so that through freight is moving without delay does not give much comfort to St. Louis business men; nor does it harmonize with the call for a meeting of railroad officials to plan for relief from freight congestion.

HONEST GOVERNMENT ISSUE.

Boodle has turned up in Wisconsin as the political issue.

Gov. La Follette, who is seeking renomination for a third term, is bitterly opposed by the corporation element. He declares that the attempt to enact legislation to tax railroads and other progressive measures was defeated by the railroad lobby, in 1901.

"That money was used no one who watched the session can doubt," says the governor. "That money was offered and refused is susceptible of proof."

The movement begun in St. Louis 18 months ago promises to sweep the country. The issue of honesty in government is not made by any man or party casting about helplessly for a "Morgan" good enough for this campaign. It is a birth of the time and the politicians will have to face it.

The Joplin Globe wants to know why the metropolitan newspapers print letters that discredit John A. Lee. So far as the Post-Dispatch is concerned, it prints the news regardless of its effect upon parties or politicians.

GEN. MILES' RETIREMENT.

After an honorable career of 42 years Lieutenant-General Nelson A Miles goes on the retired list Aug. 8, 1903.

Gen. Miles entered the military service as captain Sept. 9, 1861, and saw more fighting during the civil war than most other officers. His first battle was at Fair Oaks, June 1, 1862, where he won the commendation of his commanding officer. Hard work was his portion at Fredericksburg, where he was colonel of a New York regiment, and at Antietam he won the star of a brigadier, being recommended for the honor and responsibility by every officer under whom he had served. And it is noteworthy that wherever his name is mentioned in the dispatches he is praised, not only for gallantry, but for skill. He was no mere fighter. He developed abilities as a capable and trustworthy commander of large armies.

After the civil war Miles distinguished himself as an Indian fighter. One after another Sitting Bull, Chief Joseph and Geronimo were subdued and all danger of Indian wars forever removed.

Gen. Miles' later career, especially since he was raised to the grade of lieutenant-general, has not been very happy. He believes in Miles and is self-assertive, perhaps headstrong. But nobody ever questioned his courage or ability as a soldier or commander. He fell out with the President and Secretary of War and waged a feud with some swivel chair heroes in Washington. As a consequence his personal dignity was impaired and he lost in the public esteem. But in the summing up Gen. Miles will undobtedly hold a high place in American history as a commander and a man.

The case decided by Judge Lochren was brought under a state law and his opinion does not formally conflict with the decision of the Circuit Court in the merger case. Nevertheless the legal principles are the same and the judicial discord is plain and irritating. We shall know what the law is when the Supreme Court justices tell what they think it is.

The present freight and terminal situation in St. Louis is not conducive to the prosperity of St. Louis railroads. Wise shippers are routing their through freight by lines that do not touch St. Louis, thus depriving St. Louis lines of profitable business. It never pays to do the wrong thing.

Responsive to Public Opinion.

From the New Madrid Southeast Missourian.

We believe there is a custom which prevails in the older countries, that when the policy pursued by a cabinet or congress is questioned or criticised by the press and people, that the members resign and stand for re-election to see if the voters indorse their acts. Would it not be a good idea for the judges of the Missouri supreme court to try that?

JUST A MINUTE WITH THE POST-DISPATCH POET & PHILOSOPHER

THURSDAY.

Another big day for the printing of papers;
Their pages, alluring and bright,
To the ladies serve as intellectual tapers,
And fill them chock full of delight.
They read and they read and they read until bedtime,
Hunting bargains, inquisitive dears!
With hubby it's always a nervous and dread time,
When Thursday appears.

On Thursday we go to a show vaudevillian—
A different one from the last.
It seems we have certainly been to a million
In the ten summers recently passed.
We hark to the gags that are old as creation,
And greet all the actors with cheers,
And encourage their sins with our wild cachinnation,
When Thursday appears.

On Thursday we eagerly figure on payday,
Since none is a Morgan or Sage.
Last week all our hearts were as bright as a May-day,
But mercy! since then is an age.
Some day we'll have money and won't have to worry,
Though it may be a cycle of years,
But at present our minds are somewhat in a flurry
When Thursday appears.

Harry Lehr Again.

It was a dull day at Newport and the dear ladies were feeling a-weary, so Harry Lehr strolled into Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish's tennis grounds wearing a ladies' chatelaine bag on his right wrist.

The ladies gasped finelaidically in mild astonishment, and smiled with delight when Mr. Lehr informed them that the little purse was not his wife's, but his very own, to have and to hold, and that he would continue to wear it, for the edification and divertisement of Newport society.

Oh, the lovely Mr. Lehr!

How thoughtful of him to think up an idea so delicately delicious for the delectation of the dolorous, dawdling, dolce far niente dears!

Wasn't it just too sweet of him! Almost as sweet as sleeping in pink pajamas with a rose in his hair.

Say! Aren't there any big, hairy men at Newport? If so, why don't they get an axe?

THE FOOLISH LANDLORD.

A FABLE.

Once upon a time there was a man who had an office building and an idea. He inherited the office building; the idea came to him as a result of a mental process he was pleased to term "thought." The basis of this thought was the complaint of tenants that they had to pay too much rent for offices. The man placed two fingers on his beetling brow, and about 12 "fingers" in his beetling stomach and evolved the Great Idea. "Now the tenants have a just cause for complaint," he said, "It is not right that they pay all the expense of doing business with the public. I will even up matters by lowering their rent one-third and charging the public toll on the elevators. I will charge each passenger a flat rate of 5 cents the round trip to any floor."

So he placed his Great Idea into effect.

At first the tenants were pleased, being thoughtless, as tenants usually are. They figured only on the saving in their rents. But it soon became apparent that their trade was decreasing at a marvelous rate, and on inquiring the cause, they were informed by their clients that it was the elevator toll. "Why, see here," said one client to his lawyer, "If I pay that toll, I will be paying twice for your services. Paying your individual fees, and paying your landlord for the privilege of doing business with you."

Then there was an exodus from the building. The landlord was greatly incensed at what he termed the "ingratitude" of his tenants. "Look what I have saved you in rent," he said to one of them. You can't get such a snap anywhere else in the city." And he couldn't understand when the tenant retorted that it was the most expensive office he had ever occupied.

"It cost me all my trade," said the tenant.

"But didn't the consumer pay your rent?" asked the landlord.

"Yep, but the wretch soon quit consuming from me," answered the tenant. And he moved with the rest to an office building where rents were somewhat higher, but where the public had free access.

Now there was to have been a moral to this story, but we have forgotten what it was. There are so many that might fit it. It may have been something about the bridge arbitrary, or the tariff, or the occupation tax. We will leave it to the ingenuity of our readers to find a moral to fit it. Send in your answers.

POST-DISPATCH FASHIONS.

Two Charming Summer Gowns.

The first gown is of flowered organdie. The skirt, made with groups of plaits, is finished with deep flounces also made with groups of plaits and headed and bordered with wide bands of cream lace. The blouse is covered with a plaited bolero, which is trimmed around the slightly low neck and down the left side with the lace. The wide, folded girdle is of old rose silk and forms a sort of corselet finished at the left side with a frill. The tops of the sleeves are of this silk made like the girdle, and the full lower parts are of the muslin trimmed with bands of lace. The latter also forms the cuffs. The second gown is of pale grayish green cloth. The skirt is trimmed with a wide band of ecru lace simulating a tunic, short in front, longer in the back. Below this, the skirt, or flounce, is made with groups of plaits. The blouse opens in front over a plaited plastron of violet mousseline de soie. The large shoulder collar, cut in festoons, is elaborately trimmed with ecru lace, with little straps of black velvet and with tassels. The plain sleeves are cut in an odd shape at the bottom and flare over full undersleeves of ecru lace. The draped girdle is of black velvet.—La Mode Elegante.

"Don't know," said Tommie.

"How dreadful," said Tommie, "and what can I do about it?"

"Let me have your milk bottle and you will grow to be a big boy, and then perhaps a man," said the pig, taking the bottle and drinking it dry.

Tommie looked at him sadly, for he wanted the milk.

"How about you?" he asked.

"Me?" said the pig. "O! don't worry about me. I shall always be a hog. Good day."

LAW ON THE BRIDGE COMBINE.

Judge Grosscup's Decision Applied to the Present Situation in St. Louis.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Your effort to relieve St. Louis of the bridge arbitrary seems to be near of accomplishment and you deserve much credit in having the war department investigate the Merchants' bridge to ascertain if that corporation has violated its franchise and forfeited its property to the federal government. If you are successful in having the federal authorities in St. Louis break up the combination between the Merchants' Bridge Co. and the Wiggins Ferry Co., the business interest of St. Louis will owe you a debt of gratitude. If the combination between the bridge company and the ferry company is not in restraint of trade and in violation of the Sherman law, it will be difficult to find any combination that would violate that law.

In a recent decision by Judge Grosscup of Chicago, one of the ablest jurists on the federal bench, in the case of the United States vs. Swift & Co., he said:

No one can doubt that these averments state a case of combination. Whether the combination be unlawful or not, depends on whether it is in restraint of trade. The general meaning of that term is no longer open to inquiry. It has been passed upon carefully by the supreme court in the freight association case, 166 U. S. 290, 17 Sup. Ct. 540, 41 L. Ed. 1007, and in the traffic case, 171, U. S. 558, 19 Sup. Ct. 25, 43 L. Ed. 259, where the whole subject was a year later elaborately reargued. I will not extend into this opinion even a summary of these cases. It is clear from them that restraint of trade is not dependent upon any consideration of reasonableness or unreasonableness in the combination averred; not is it to be tested by the prices that result from the combination. Indeed, combination that leads directly to lower prices to the consumer may, within the doctrine of these cases, even as against the consumer, be restraint of trade. The statute, thus interpreted, has no concern with prices, but locks solely to competition, and to the giving of competition full play, by making illegal any effort at restriction upon competition. Whatever combination has the direct and necessary effect of restricting competition, is, within the meaning of the Sherman act as now interpreted, restraint of trade.

Competition therefore is the standard by which the federal courts measure the Sherman law, and any combination in restraint of trade is that which restricts competition. Has the Terminal Association destroyed competition in combining the Merchants' Bridge and the Wiggins Ferry Co. with that association?

St. Louis. G. W. HARRIS.

DON'T BE SEASICK.

If people will persist in being seasick it is not for lack of remedies. Here are a few commonly quoted:

Eat little for a few days before beginning a voyage; use mild cathartics; exercise freely.

Put a mustard leaf to the stomach and a hot water bottle to the feet. Wear a belt drawn tight. (This doesn't sound reasonable; corseted women are much more often seasick than loosely clothed men.)

Take three or four drops of chloroform on a lump of sugar; hot milk; bromide of soda; chlorobrom (not chloroform); cocaine; antipyrin; lemons; apples.

Wear an ice-belt; drink champagne, ginger ale, stout.

Stay on deck constantly; lie abed; keep on your feet and exercise vigorously. Try to think of something else and get really interested in some other topic besides seasickness.

PRETTY STOCK.

Here is a pretty bit of summer work for girls:

The material used is ¼ yard of china silk, ¼ yard of white stiffening and 1¼ yards of velvet ribbon ¼ inch wide. Make a plain collar of the silk over the stiffening. Then baste a row of the velvet on the top, one on the bottom and one half way between.

Sew the top and bottom one on firmly, but the one in the middle merely baste. Fagot between with either silk or silkoline Line and you have a pretty, durable and cheap stock.

Mariana's Experiment

"I think," Mariana said, "that I will take my clothes and my dolls and my little pretend piano and go over to Aunt Harriet's to live. She and Uncle John know how to treat little girls."

"Very well," her mother answered, calmly, "I will pack some of your things in a suit case and send them over there. You can stay there in your way as you did this morning and leave your dolly."

"But I'll want my trunk if I'm going to stay always," Mariana objected. "I can't leave home with just a trunk seemed to be an undignified performance.

"I'll send the trunk tomorrow," her mother said. "But you can go at once if you wish."

Mariana was soon ready to leave home forever. She clasped with one arm several dilapidated dolls and under the other she held her toy piano. She paused on the threshold. "Good-by, mamma," she said. "I'm going over to Aunt Harriet's now. I know she will let me wear my red dresses to school every day."

She lingered, seeming to hope that her mother would relent. Mrs. Lewis only looked up absently from her embroidery and said: "Good-by, daughter."

Mariana winked hard. "I wouldn't want to kiss a lady like her that don't care for her own child," she said to the dolls.

When she reached Aunt Harriet's house she found that person at home. "Your mamma telephoned that you were coming to live with me," Aunt Harriet said, affably. "I'm sure Uncle John and I are very glad."

"COMING TO LIVE WITH ME."

Mariana laid the dolls on a divan and placed the toy piano in a safe corner. She wished to define her position at once, so she observed:

"You won't make me go to school every day and not wear my new dresses, will you?"

"No; you may go to school when you feel like it and wear what you please."

Mariana's eyes opened very wide at this. She saw a life of solid enjoyment before her. "And I can snip paper on the floor?"

"Yes, indeed. Now, do what you please while I go to market."

Mariana clasped one of her dolls in her arms to play that the oriental rugs on the floor were cakes of ice floating in a river. She was a second Eliza crossing on them to a shore represented by the staircase. Her heels made several scratches on the shining floor, but Aunt Harriet politely ignored these when she returned.

"I am afraid little brother will miss me dreadfully," Mariana once remarked.

"O, he will miss you for a little while," Aunt Harriet said cheerfully, "but he has so many people to love him that he'll soon forget."

"And this is the day to have plum pudding at home," stammered Mariana.

"You can have any kind of dessert you want when you live here," her aunt said. "What do you want?"

"Let's have plum pudding, too," Mariana said, brightening.

She got through the rest of the morning very well and made a hearty lunch, but afterwards she fell into a pensive state. She was only roused when Aunt Harriet allowed her to make imaginary calls in a long skirt and plumed hat.

Dinner passed off fairly well. After dinner, however, was a trying time. Mariana had retired to a dark corner, from whence issued strange sounds. Finally Aunt Harriet said in her cheery way: "Now, Mariana, I'll take you upstairs to your own little room."

A DARK CORNER.

At this the adopter of parents cast herself on the floor with wild sobs. "Oh, take me back home to papa and mamma and little brother!" she cried.

"But if you go home you'll have to obey your mother and here you do what you please," Aunt Harriet objected.

"I don't care," Mariana wailed, ungratefully. "When folks let a little girl do what she wants to all the time she doesn't want to do it."

Uncle John and Aunt Harriet smiled at each other. They gathered up the dolls, the toy piano and the dress-suit case and started home with Mariana.

THE MAN IN THE STREET

Competition in Weather.

It should be a source of joy to the community to learn that Daniel J. Herndon, chief clerk of the weather bureau, has resigned and is "going into business for himself." Doubtless Mr. Herndon, like the rest of us, is dissatisfied with the way the weather is being run, and proposes to set up a rival shop with all the latest novelties and choicest brands of climatic merchandise. We would warn him, however, against placing any reliance on any of the pseudo-scientific meteorological paraphernalia now in use by the government prognosticators. He will fare better by using the goose bone, the ground hog and the rheumatic knee, and striking an average from the predictions of the three. We know several old gentlemen who would like employment as weather prophets on the strength of their rheumatic knees, and goose bones (or is it geese bones?) can be bought at a reasonable figure. At any rate, if Mr. Herndon is any sort of an expert in ambiguity, he will be a formidable rival to the U. S. weather bureau, and command a good portion of the trade.

Oh well, a cyclone is no worse than a sunstroke.

Somebody should speak to Mr. Bowie, and tell him that it is in bad form to be always talking about the weather.

How can you walk on the shady side of the street? There isn't enough room.

Thirty-two milk dealers have been convicted recently of adulterating their product. By the way, why are they called milk dealers?

Local barbers have asked the city for a reduction in their water rates. They now pay $15 a year for each bathtub. Perhaps with a reduction in rates each bather would get a fresh tub of water.

Impertinence Rebuked.

It was an irreverent and malapert conflagration that attempted to "start something" in the dignified St. Louis Club, and we are pleased to chronicle that it was put out without ceremony. Any half-witted blaze should have known better. The very embers in the proletariat stove realize the Arctic tone of that august institution and go out when they think of it. No man is eligible for membership who has not discovered the North Pole. The flunkeys when off duty are carefully laid away in ice chests. The members are always 32 degrees below zero. And to attempt to raise the temperature of this frigid body! Mount Pelee couldn't do it. And yet a "small blaze" tried to gain a foothold there! What ill-bred, what shocking presumption! In the first reports of the incident there are things that will scarcely be credited. For instance, it is related that when the profane blaze was discovered "Manager Magill ran to Spring avenue, turned in an alarm, and then extinguished the blaze." We cannot believe such a thing of Manager Magill. That any member or attache of the St. Louis Club should run anywhere is preposterous. It would mean disgrace and dismissal. It would be an irreverent soul indeed, who could even imagine a St. Louis Club man doing a "hot foot." No, Manager Magill did not run. Put out the fire, he may have done—by proxy—but we rather fancy that no physical exertion was required. Perhaps he came and regarded it with a cold, Boreal stare, and it went out—sneaked out—of its own accord. And the Polar atmosphere of the St. Louis Club never varied a degree.

Friend R. C. Darlington will have to be watched or something is going to happen. Too sudden a change for a man of his age who thought he was nearly dead with dropsy about a year ago to now be wanting to run foot races. He not only does the hoeing in the garden, but says he is a young man again. Talks just like a widower of 40.—Laddonia Herald.

Since he has got his vigor back,
As aged fellows often do,
It may be that Friend Darlington
Is looking for a darling, too.

THE FOOL KILLER

By O. B. Joyful.

A glad cry went up from the populace when it was announced yesterday that one Whistling Chump had been squelched by the Fool Killer.

The report seemed almost too good for belief, but it was even so, and many a telephone message and personal call was received urging the Fool Killer to keep up the good work of extermination.

The second victim decided upon was the Platform Chump.

Everybody knows him. He is the chump who steps to the railing of the car in the middle of the block and either stands there holding the rail or swings far out, as though he were about to jump to the ground at any second, when he does not intend to allight until the far side of the street is reached, and who keeps you from jumping off in the middle of the block when you are 10 minutes late at your office, and who thus compels you to walk back half a block and ruin your temper.

Ah, I see you know him!

It did not take the Fool Killer long to locate him. He discovered him on the platform of a suburban car when he boarded it at Newstead avenue.

The Platform Chump never reads a newspaper, so he kept close to the rear door, as if afraid he would not be able to get out at the right street, though he had 47 blocks still to ride. This fact will give you an idea of his brain-pan.

He barely moved when the Fool Killer was crowding in, and the Fool Killer murmured softly, sweet and low:

"Well, here he is, and he's my meat. I'll give him a fair show, and if he gets in the way of 20 other persons by the time we reach Sixth street, to the boneyard he goes!"

Onward bowled the car like a man bowling up. At the very next stop, Boyle avenue, an old lady wished to alight, and there the Platform Chump was, blocking the way.

"Please step up," the conductor said.

The Platform Chump growled and showed his teeth. The old lady stepped down and the Fool Killer counted one.

So it went all down the line. Every street or two a stop was made, either to let somebody on or off the car, and still the Fool Killer continued to keep tab on the Platform Chump.

"Fifteen," he murmured, as the car reached Twelfth and Locust.

"Sixteen — seventeen — eighteen." The deadly count went on.

"Nineteen," said the Fool Killer as the car reached Eighth street and the P. C. blocked the way of an elderly man.

Seventh street—and then! A young woman tried to alight, but the P. C. was obstructing the rail and she fell heavily into the street.

"Hooray!" cried the Fool Killer, as he brought his club down with a resounding whack upon the brainless pate of the Platform Chump.

The crowd shuddered a little at the sight, but they knew that it was just—that a misspent life had brought its own reward.

The Platform Chump looked up and murmured with his dying breath:

"What do you want to hit a man like that for? I never done nothin' to you."

These were his last words. In keeping with the character of his kind, he was a chump in life and ungrammatical in death.

HEAVIER SENTENCE, FRUIT OF APPEAL

Jury Gives Faulkner Three Years, One Year More Than at His First Trial.

It is expected that Judge Douglas will pass on the motion for a new trial in the Faulkner case this week.

Faulkner, as was told in late editions of Wednesday's Post-Dispatch, was convicted of perjury and sentenced to three years' imprisonment, the jury being out only half an hour.

The sentence named by the jury is one year more than was named in the first trial. Faulkner was admitted to bail pending a motion for a new trial and a possible appeal.

The instructions of Judge Douglas to the jury were especially specific as to the meaning of the term "knowledge" as used in the indictment, and concerning Faulkner's knowledge of the existence of the Suburban boodle fund. The definition was:

"By the words 'know' and 'knowledge,' as used in the indictment, and these instructions, is not meant certain or personal knowledge, obtained by sense of sight only; the words are used in their common and ordinary meaning."

Faulkner is convicted of having testified falsely when he told the grandjury that he knew nothing of the $75,000 boodle fund locked up in a safe d... paid to the House of Delegates combine, of which he was a member, upon the passage of the Suburban franchise bill.

ROOT SEES ROOSEVELT.

Visit to the President on the Eve of Secretary's Mission to London.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Secretary of War Root, after a conference with the President which continued far into the night, left for Washington early today. This probably was the last visit of Secretary Root to President Roosevelt before the secretary leaves for England to attend the session of the joint commission appointed to determine if possible the Alaskan boundary dispute. He will sail from New York on the steamer Celtic on Saturday, the 22d inst. The President and the secretary of war discussed at length some points which have arisen regarding the operation of the general staff of the army. It is understood to have been decided that Major-General Corbin, for a time, at least, will continue to perform the duties of adjutant-general of the army, in addition to his work as second in command to the chief of staff, Major-General Young. A few details of the work of the general staff yet remain to be worked out, but Secretary Root hopes to see the new organization running smoothly before he leaves for England.

While Secretary Root discussed with the President very thoroughly the Littauer-Lyon glove contract case, no information is obtainable as to the result of the conference. The situation was so delicate that neither the President nor Secretary Root cares at this time to discuss it for publication.

No visitors were received formally by the President at Sagamore Hill today.

ACROSS CONTINENT IN EIGHTY HOURS

Steel Trust Official Making Record-Breaking Journey to See Dead Daughter.

PAID $4000 FOR A SPECIAL

Relays of Locomotives Are Ready Along the Way to Rush Him to Journey's End.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 6.—Mary Lowe, the 11-year-old daughter of Chief Engineer Henry Lowe of the United States Steel Corporation, is dead at a hotel in this city, while her father is rushing across the western prairies on a $4000 special to beat all transcontinental speed records. Mr. Lowe left New York Tuesday afternoon at 2:35 and is due in Los Angeles at 11 o'clock Friday evening, making his total time for the trip from sea to sea three days and nine hours.

So hurried was Mr. Lowe's departure from New York on hearing his daughter was dying that he did not have time to arrange for transportation west of Chicago until he was on board the Twentieth Century limited on the Lake Shore road.

From this train, telegraphic communication was opened with the Chicago offices of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad and arrangements were made for a train to make the trip to the coast in 60 hours, eight hours faster than the run made by the regular California limited.

His train consists of an engine, a baggage car and the hotel car "Rocket." The "Rocket" is equipped with cooks, waiters and abundant provisions, so that no time shall be lost in stopping for meals. Telegraphic messages directed that relays of locomotives be prepared, and that Mr. Lowe's train be given the right of way.

NEW STEEL PROCESS SUCCEEDS

Secret Tests of Ruthenburg's Electric Furnace, Greatly Reducing Cost, Favorably Impress Witnesses.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Aug. 6.—For two weeks prominent Canadian officials and capitalists have been here witnessing secret tests of the electric furnace invented by Marcus Ruthenburg of Philadelphia, which have been going at the Cowles electric smelting and aluminum works. They constitute a commission appointed by the Canadian government to investigate the process, which, it is asserted, will revolutionize the making of steel.

Ruthenburg declares that his process reduces the cost of producing steel 30 per cent, and his production is superior to that of the Bessemer process. He says that electrolytic steel is not only a possibility but an assured fact.

The two weeks' experiments seem to have verified his statement. The Canadians are reticent, but it is asserted that they are satisfied to the extent of backing an enterprise, which will put Ruthenburg's process to a commercial test in a large steel plant to be built on the Canadian side of the Niagara river, near Niagara Falls, where cheap electric power will be available.

BIG LAND FRAUD SCANDAL

Government Has Lost Heavily on Colorado Coal Properties and Congress May Investigate.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DENVER, Colo, Aug. 6.—Alleged land frauds in Colorado during the past 10 years are to be made the subject of a resolution in Congress this fall.

A resolution to be introduced demanding that the interior department shall probe the scandal to the bottom, not only in Pueblo, but in every office in the state.

An official account of the holdings of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. shows that corporation owns over 57,000 acres of coal land in Colorado, more than is embraced in all the anthracite region of Pennsylvania. To have bought up all this land at a fair valuation, it is said, would have bankrupted any corporation with the capital stock this company had at the time these lands were secured.

This report does not include coal lands held by subsidiary companies, which are said to be even larger. An official estimates that the holdings of the corporation and its auxiliary companies in southern Colorado alone exceeds 750,000 acres, worth more than $10,000,000 to the government. The land was obtained under the timber and stone act at $2.50 an acre.

Investigation showed conclusively that it was all coal land, and as such was worth $10 to $20 an acre.

There is a strong desire in Colorado to know whether or not all of these lands have been acquired ho...

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF DOINGS IN MARKET AND FINANCIAL WORLD

OPENING LOWER, THE PRICES ADVANCED

Evidences of Inside Support and No More Failures Tended to Restore Confidence.

Special to the Post-Dispatch

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The opening today was active and feverish, brokers not being able to size up the situation satisfactorily. The decline of yesterday and the attendant failures has unsettled the market so much that opinions are worthless and the probable course of the market a pure matter of conjecture. London came irregular, the average being a trifle advanced.

When the market closed yesterday the real day of the broker began, and his labors extended well into the night. Margin accounts were all gone over, and there was some liberal calling which was reflected in the opening today. A large percentage of the opening sales were for margin account and fluctuations were by points or large fractions in most instances.

There was a feeling of impending disaster hanging over the room and further failures were looked for today. Many think, however, that most of the stock belonging to the weak members was closed out yesterday, and they consider that the low prices were caused by the liquidating of these accounts. From some sources comes the report that the banks are standing by the market, while others hold that they are the ones that are doing most of the selling. The former theory seems the most plausible.

Both Rock Island and Steel, as yesterday, were comparatively strong on the opening, giving the appearance that the weak holders in those stocks were shaken out last week and earlier in this week. There are also some appearances of inside support in these stocks.

Missouri Pacific, at the opening, was again weak, selling down to 89 in the first few minutes with a later recovery to the opening. Union Pacific was also on the weak list, selling to 68⅞.

The report is that George Gould and some of the other leading lights in the financial world are getting into the market now and are arranging to support their specialties.

Up to the close of the first hour there had been no failures announced, but that did not help the market. Rock Island lost its earlier strength and sold down to 19⅝, another new low record. The general market was also off and prices at 11 o'clock were on an average well below the opening.

After the first hour the weakness was much more apparent and the announcement that all sheets had gone safely through the clearing house was greeted with cheers, as there had been considerable apprehension that the clearing house would be the rock on which someone would be wrecked.

Prices took a steady upturn and in most cases the earlier losses were wiped out and a gain was made over the opening. In addition to some good short covering there were better evidences of inside support than at any time for many days.

The circulation of a rumor that a strong pool was being formed to protect a large line of the leading stocks was heralded with satisfaction by those who have been hoping for better prices. It was an effective rumor and helped the market materially.

The trading was of large volume, 505,300 shares selling to noon. Money was at 2½ during the forenoon. The banks continue to lose to the subtreasury, the loss so far being $3,147,000.

During the closing hour there was no halt in the upward movement and prices steadily and surely climbed up the scale until gains of from 1 to 3 points had been made in the leading stocks. Missouri Pacific, which showed so weak during the early hours, was strongly supported and more than regained its early loss. New York Central is scarce in the loan crowd and it took but little to send up the price.

Money firmed up a bit, but that was overlooked in the general scramble to take on stocks. The supporting element certainly did its work well and the shorts made a grand rush to cover. The trading was mostly in small lots, but the aggregate was large and it looked like a bear panic for a time.

The close was very active and closing quotations showed the last sales to be at about the high point of the day and in many cases equal or above the high of yesterday.

The opening prices and changes were as follows: Copper 37⅛, decline ⅝; Atchison 56⅜, decline 1; Baltimore & Ohio 77½, decline 1⅛; Brooklyn 41, decline 1⅜; Canadian Pacific 120⅜, decline ⅞; Rock Island 20¼, decline ⅛; Erie 24, advance ¼; Manhattan 130⅛, decline ⅜; Missouri Pacific 90, unchanged; New York Central 117, advance ¼; Pennsylvania 120⅛, advance ⅛; Reading 45¾, decline ¼; St. Paul 135¾, advance ½; Southern Pacific 40, advance ¼; Sugar 110⅛, decline ⅞; Union Pacific 69, decline ¾; Steel 21, advance ⅛; Wabash preferred 29½, decline ½.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Sentiment in Wall street was strung to a high tension this morning and the opening quotations were awaited with apprehension. They showed that protective measures had been taken to avoid demoralization and many of the prominent leading stocks were lifted a fraction. At other points, however, there were violent breaks, especially in the specialties, and some of the market leaders were also under severe pressure.

Such stock as St. Paul, Southern Pacific, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Southern Railway, Erie and Illinois Central showed the effect of supporting orders and rose a fraction. Missouri Pacific and U. S. Steel opened unchanged, but the former relapsed a point. Chicago & Northwestern dropped 4; Wheeling & Lake Erie second preferred, 3½; Continental Tobacco preferred, 2; Brooklyn Transit, 1⅞; Atchison, Baltimore & Ohio and Metropolitan Street Railway more than a point and Consolidated Gas, Manhattan, General Electric and Sugar about a point.

The dealings in the first few minutes were excited and feverish, but the market showed the good effect of supporting orders.

The market was nervous throughout the first hour, owing to the occasional outpouring of special stocks which carried their prices through previous low levels for the year, but the supporting tactics were pursued and the market became steadier. Selling was conspicuous in Missouri Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio, carrying them 1¾ under last night. Atchison lost as much and Union Pacific declined 1¼. Metropolitan Street Railway lost 3⅛, Continental Tobacco preferred, 3⅞; Delaware & Hudson, Hocking Valley preferred, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie, Consolidated Gas, Pullman and Republic Steel preferred, 2 to 3 points, and a more extended list a point or more.

With the announcement that all sheets had passed the stock exchange clearing house, the buying became definitely predominant over the selling and the market rose with animation. Only stocks that had been notably weak failed to recover fully. Such leaders as St. Paul, the trunk lines, except Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Pacific, the Wabash and the Southern group of railroads, U. S. Steel, Amalgamated, Sugar, General Electric and a miscellaneous list besides rose above last night.

Wabash preferred, St. Louis, Southwestern preferred and Kansas & Texas preferred rose a point over last night and Tennessee Coal, 1¼. There was a break of 3½ in St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred and of 2½ in Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie preferred. On the rally the demand diminished to small proportions. Atchison then sold off 2¼ below last night, Reading, 1⅜, and the whole list yielded again easily.

Bonds were weak at noon.

MARGIN SELLING UNSETTLED PRICES

Transit Sold Down to $16.75, but Reacted Some on Good Demand Towards the Close.

THE BONDS WERE IN DEMAND

With the Exception on Central Coal and Coke the Miscellaneous List Was Entirely Neglected.

The market this morning showed that the busy margin caller had been hard at work over night and there were evidences of selling stock for the account of delinquent customers.

There was a show of strength in Transit at the start, but liberal offerings came out on the decline and the drop to $16.75 was quick. Towards the close, however, the house which was the most active seller appeared as a buyer and the price was lifted to $17 at the close. The preferred was equally weak in tone at the start and found the same support at the close, the last bids being more than the stock had sold for during the session. The bonds were strong and in good demand, a total of $29,000 selling at from $80 to $80.25.

After the sale of a small lot of American Exchange Bank at $341.50 there was a sale of a lot of 100 shares at $340, from which price the bid was raised to $344 without offers.

Central Coal and Coke was the only stock in the miscellaneous list which showed any life at all, and that only to the extent of 10 shares.

NORTHWEST THE BULL LEADER

An Advance in Minneapolis Rallies Other Wheat Markets.

COARSE GRAINS BENEFITED

Cables on Wheat Not Unfavorable—Light Wheat Receipts at St. Louis.

Grain

The storm center of the bull movement in wheat has shifted from the Southwest to the Northwest. Besides the great reversal in form that has taken place in the spring wheat crop, the extremely small supplies in the Northwest, the smallest since that section became a large producer, and the insignificant movement to market, have created such a great scarcity of cash wheat that mills at Minneapolis are paying fancy prices to obtain supplies. Sales reported there of No. 1 hard at 90⅝c, No. 1 Northern at 89⅜@89⅞c and No. 2 Northern at 87⅞@88⅞, these 6½c to 9c above the price of September. The bulls who had sold out in the home market banking upon a break to get in cheaper, were completely shut out by the flare up in price that finally resulted from the Northwestern boom, and both bears and sold-out bulls had to get a lively buying hustle on them late in the day. The Southwest has not lost its bullish conditions, but just now they are lost by the Northwest, which makes speculation forget anything in the bear line. It is wheat that is holding corn up in price, for there is nothing especially bullish in that cereal to induce speculation to take hold, and those who do so on bulges are sorry for it. The crop will be short, but the demands are very much ditto. Oats show good conditions.

WHEAT—Although displaying some weakness, there was hardly enough selling at the opening to bring about much of a decline, all of which was due to an unexpected advance of ⅛c in Minneapolis. That so suggested crop damage or unfavorable weather, though the map did not show the latter, that the buying was really better than the selling. The buying increased, too, so that a quick reaction took place, but then eased back.

September opened ⅛c lower at 79⅞c, and sold off to 79⅝c, then up to 80⅛c and back to 80c. December opened steady at 82⅝c, sold at 82¾@82⅞c, up to 82¾c, off to 82½c. For May 85⅝c bid.

Neither the big break in American markets yesterday or the return to fine weather in France and England unduly influenced Liverpool, if declines of ⅜@½d in that market were any criterion, but Paris was evidently, as the opening decline there was ¾@1c. Receipts were again unseasonably small, the 72,300 bu for the home market little over half the 140,400 bu in last Thursday and 127,600 bu smaller than a year ago, but the public stock had increased 100,000 bu in past 24 hours, of which over 50,000 bu in contract grade. Kansas City received 94,000 bu, against 136,000 bu a year ago and Northwestern markets only 92 cars, against 134 last year.

It was a see-saw market for sometime afterwards, distinguished by more dullness than looked well for a bull market. Latest cables showed Paris had lost 1¾c for the current and ¾c for deferred futures and Antwerp was 1¼c lower as result of the fine weather, but Liverpool had not gone off over ½d for the day. However, no sales were made below 79⅝c for September, 82¼c for December and 85½c for May (December offered at 82⅛@82¼c), and finally another strong advance in Minneapolis created such a demand that September sold up to 80¼c, December to 82¾c and May 85¾c before 12 o'clock.

Primary receipts were 450,000 bu against 896,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 383,000 bu against 596,000 bu last year. Clearances in flour and wheat were 227,000 bu.

The Northwestern market was so strong and the news so bullish on crops and the cash situation that an urgent demand was developed in the home market, traders who had sold out or gave shorts coming in as eager buyers and advancing prices sharply. Reported sales of 45 loads for export were bullish in their effect also. A stiff advance in prices was made. Sept. selling up to 80½@80⅝c, which asked at close and Dec. to 83¼c, with sellers late at 83⅛@83¼c. For May 86c bid.

Cash market—Received, 1276 sacks and 114 cars local and 19 cars through. Soft winter averaged ½c lower, but met ready sale, though the bulk taken by elevator buyers. City and outside milling demands moderate. Hard winter firm and well taken by millers. Car lots delivered—No. 2 red sold at 80@80½c west and 80¼@81½c east side, a car fancy (63 lbs) for seed at 83c; No. 3 red at 79@79½c west and 79@80¼c east side; No. 4 at 76@77c; rejected at 75c; No. 2 hard at 74c for old and 76@78½c (Turkey worth 77c) for new; No. 3 hard at 75@77c for new; No. 4 hard at 65@71c for new and old worth 64@66c; No. 2 mixed at 77c.

CORN—Weather conditions continued favorable for the growing crop of which the Cincinnati Price Current said the condition had been improved or slightly improved, though in the next sentence indicating only between a half to three-quarter crop in large sections. As the P. C. has not heretofore admitted much injury to the corn crop, the above looked as though the P. C. was hedging. An easier market in the opening in sympathy with declines elsewhere was followed by a reaction, which principally due to the advance in wheat. Liverpool showed strength, as after ⅛d decline that market advanced ⅜d. Receipts locally were 36,900 bu, against 27,000 bu one year ago.

September opened 1-16c off at 49⅝c, sold at 49¾c and 49¾@49⅞c then bid. December sold ⅛c lower at 48⅞c.

A weakening to 49⅝c for September and 48⅝c for December (May was offered at 49¾c) followed the early rally, but increased demands came in on advance elsewhere and the rally in wheat. September sold at 49⅞c, December at 48⅞c (48⅞@49c was bid) and May at 49½c. Liverpool continued to show strength, closing ⅜d higher for the day.

Primary receipts were 195,000 bu, against 117,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 245,000 bu, against 148,000 bu last year. Clearances were 71,000 bu.

The corn market was held up by the late advance in wheat, but showed no real strength of its own and was but lightly traded. At close September sold at 49⅞c and for December 49c bid. May nominally 49⅝c.

Cash market—Received 366 sacks and 31 cars local and 9 cars through. Firmer and a better, though limited demand, mainly local, but some for shipment. By sample delivered—No. 2 at 50¼c, No. 3 at 49¼c and No. 3 yellow at 51@51½c (latter choice) west side, no grade at 43c and oats mixed at 44c, No. 2 white at 51½c west side, No. 3 white at 50½@51c east and 50¾c west side.

OATS—No one attempted to trade in futures this morning and the market was entirely nominal. Receipts were 48,600 bu at this point, against 59,400 bu one year ago. Outside a bid of 33⅛c for December the market was neglected all the forenoon. Primary receipts were 335,000 bu, against 407,090 bu one year ago, and shipments 171,000 bu, against 366,000 bu last year. Clearances were 3000 bu.

Cash market—Received 28 cars local and 8 cars through. Quiet, the demand entirely local and only for white and the best mixed. By sample delivered—No. 2 at 34@34½c west side, No. 3 at 32c east and 32½c west side, No. 4 at 31¼c west side, No. 2 white at 39½c, No. 3 white at 34@37c and No. 4 white at 32@36c west side.

RYE—Strong, as little offered. New No. 2 sold West Side at 53c and old worth 52c. No. 3 quotable at 50@51c.

Trade Topics.

Beerbohm says the French wheat crop is hardly likely to prove an average one, as French requirements will be larger than any season since 1897-98, when they imported 80,000,000 bu. The English crop can hardly be a large one, and needs will be fully 196,000,000 bu, 4,000,000 less than the present season. Germany will probably need 72,000,000 bu, Holland and Belgium about 64,000,000 bu, and the season's European requirements will probably be 432,000,000 to 440,000,000, and world's requirements not less than 48,000,000, or 24,000,000 less than the past season.

Whoa! Stop that break in Wall street! Third Vice-President Brown of the New York Central road says after personal inspection of corn crop situation in Iowa that the prospect of a large harvest has led the New York Central and Lake Shore to order 2000 cars for early delivery and 1000 cars and 105 locomotives for delivery before the end of the year in order to take care of prospective tonnage.

Cincinnati Price Current says: "Corn conditions maintained or slightly improved. Bulk of reports vary between half and three-quarters of a crop; above an average in the South. No material change in wheat or oats indications. Hog packing for week 345,000 head, against 265,000 last year.

The movement in wheat in and out the principal accumulative and distributive centers so far this week indicate a good increase in the visible supply for the week. During the same period last year there was a decrease of 200,000 bu and the year before that of 2,150,000 bu.

The Paris Bulletin des Halles estimates the French wheat crop at 320,000,000 bu, and the Marche Francaise at 312,000,000 bu. Last year the crop was officially estimated at 352,000,000 bu.

Broomhall reports good weather in France and England. Harvest had begun in south of England.

The Southwestern Grain Journal on its thrashing returns estimates the wheat crop of Kansas as over 82,000,000 bu, Nebraska at about 40,000,000 bu, and Oklahoma between 27,000,000 and 28,000,000 bu. Kansas it does not believe will produce more than half a crop of corn, and the same for Oklahoma, but probabilities favor 75 per cent of a crop in Nebraska.

In a letter from Enid, O. T., to the Post-Dispatch commercial editor a St. Louis traveling man estimates the Kansas corn crop at about half a yield, and wheat 25 per cent less than expected. He reports Minneapolis a big buyer of wheat everywhere and all tracks full for Kansas City and Minneapolis, as are elevators.

W. B. Harrison received today an car of corn from his brother at McKinney, Tex., that the sender says fairly represents the crop in that section. The ear was of good size and well matured, speaking well for the Texas crop.

Broomhall cables his Argentine agent estimates that country's shipments for the week as 800,000 bu wheat and 3,600,000 bu corn.

FLOUR AND FEED.

FLOUR—Not so much doing in export lines, but cable inquiries good and some sales of hard winter made. Sales to Cuba at an advance reported, but no better than a fair domestic trade.

Soft winter flour—Patent, $3.90@4; straights, $3.75@3.85; extra fancy, $3.60@3.70; clears, $3.20@$3.35; low grades in jutes, $2.40@2.90. Hard winter flours in jutes—Patents, $3.50 for firsts to $3.75 for extra fancy; straights, $3.25@3.35; clears, $2.70@2.90. Foregoing prices for lots from first hands, track or at depot this side. Orders higher.

RYE FLOUR—In a jobbing way at $3.05 in jute sacks and $3.30 in wool for new. Mixed and inferior less.

CORNMEAL—F. o. b., $2.70 for city make and $3 for pearl meal, grits and hominy.

MILLFEED—Shippers bidding firm prices, but report obtainable as millers asking advances. On basis east track bran salable at 70@71c in large and 73@74c in small sacks, and mixed feed at 75@80c and mids at 85c@$1.00 according to quality. On direct orders bran in large sacks sold at 75c. At mill bran sells at 75@78c and mids at 95c.

HAY.

Received 545 tons local and 165 tons through; shipped 350 tons. Only demand is from local feeders and that for the best grades, which scarce and firm, and ready sale. Most of the offerings low grade or out of condition and extremely dull.

REVIEW OF STEEL MARKET.

Uncertainty Reigns in All Branches of the Trade.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—There is some uncertainty in nearly all the branches of the iron trade, induced by the feeling that consumption may decline the balance of the year, says the Iron Age. What has added to the uneasiness is the fact that occasionally demands are made for the postponement of deliveries and, in cases, for cancellation.

The condition of the money and security markets has put a serious phase on new undertakings, which it is very difficult to finance.

In the pig iron markets the principal event of the week has been the heavy buying of western malleable iron interests, which consume about 150,000 tons of pig iron annually. For the second half, the purchases include about 50,000 tons in the Chicago market at the price of about $17.50 for malleable Bessemer, and considerable additional quantities in the Cleveland market for Toledo and Indianapolis delivery. Other malleable interests have also been buyers.

In ordinary foundry iron, the principal transaction reported has been the purchase by a leading harvester interest of about 20,000 tons of northern iron in the Chicago district at $17 for No. 2. No large sales of southern iron have taken place, and the situation is unchanged.

In Bessemer pig, it is noted that two furnaces of the U. S. Steel corporation—one at Youngstown and one at New Castle—are about to blow out, so that the requirements may become more urgent.

A meeting of the pig-iron committee is to be held early next week. Basic pig in the East has sold at $16 delivered. The lowering on the price of pig iron is causing a decline in cast-iron pipe. It is pretty well understood that the leading steelmakers have determined to put a stop to importations of steel billets and will meet such foreign prices as are made near tide water or at interior points. Generally speaking, the market is quiet. In the heavy lines, a fair tonnage is being placed, but so far as plates and the shapes for car building are concerned, the future is uncertain because the steel car builders have not had any important new orders for a considerable time.

Nor do the shipyards promise to be as heavy customers as they have been. Slight concessions are being made in sheets and in terne plates, while the steel bar mills have decided to guarantee prices against a decline. Dullness reigns in all branches of the metal trade, and the general tendency is downward.

GRAIN MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Wheat opened quiet, with prices lower on weak cables and more favorable weather in the Northwest. There was a little buying by interests which sold heavily yesterday and there was also a good commission house demand, which checked the decline. September was a shade to ⅛@¼c lower at the start, opening at 79¼@79⅜c and after advancing to 79⅝c, the price steadied around 79⅝c. Receipts at Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago were 209 cars. Favorable weather conditions offset firm cables and small receipts and prices in the corn pit were easier, with September unchanged to ⅛c lower at 52@52⅛c. Before the end of the first hour the price had declined still further, touching 51⅞@51⅝c, with very little trading. Receipts were 80 cars.

Later the market became stronger and September sold up to 80⅝c and closed ⅝@¾c higher, at 80¼@80⅝c.

There was considerable September oats for sale at the start and opening prices were barely steady, being unchanged to ⅛c lower at 34@34⅛c. Later sales were made at 33⅞c, but before the end of the first hour the price had rallied again to 34⅛c. Receipts were 125 cars.

The close was steady, with September unchanged at 52⅛c.

Provisions were easier along with the lower prices for hogs. Trading was extremely dull early in the day and the market had a declining tendency. September pork opened 10c lower at $13.55; September lard was off 2½c at $7.90, with ribs 2½@5c to 5@7½c lower at $8.02½ to $8.05.

RAILROAD WORKMAN SUFFERS DISTRESS FROM THE STORM

The camps of the graders at work on the Southern Railroad near Centerville Station were partially blown away by the storm Wednesday afternoon. The tent of Contractor White, in which he and his family make their home, was blown from its supports and the rain poured into the camp, destroying food and drenching bed clothing. Nearby farm houses were sought as places of refuge by the tentless graders.

FINANCIAL. FINANCIAL.

$350,000

Capital Stock of World's Fair Automobile Transit Co.

$250,000 of the total issue of $600,000 of the above stock having been disposed of by the company, we offer the remaining $350,000 at its par value of $10.00 per share.

The Word's Fair Automobile Transit Company has a concession from the World's Fair management, giving it the exclusive vehicle privilege of entering the gates of the Fair for the purpose of transporting passengers, and the right to carry passengers around the grounds, and the further privilege of selling to passengers en route to the grounds a ticket for their entrance to the Fair, thus eliminating the inconvenience of standing in line at the ticket booths, and other delays incident thereto.

In addition to establishing a system of automobiles to run inside the World's Fair grounds, which will cover all points of interest, the company proposes establishing a regular system of transportation from all parts of the city to and from the grounds. Automobiles will be run on a regular schedule, and as the number of stops will be limited, a much more rapid and comfortable means of reaching the Fair will be afforded than by other systems.

EARNINGS.

The Automobiles to be used will have a seating capacity of from 12 to 40 passengers each.

Estimate of earnings, based on only 50 per cent of the seating capacity of the automobiles is as follows:

Gross Earnings	$1,273,460
Operating expenses, maintenance and percentage to Exposition Company	420,520
Net earnings	$ 852,940

The net earnings on the above basis will be 140 per cent on the capital invested, in addition to the Company having its equipment on hand at the close of the Fair.

The business of the pre-exposition period has not been included in the above estimates.

The management of the World's Fair Automobile Transit Co. is vested in its Board of Directors, composed of the following:

Joseph Ramsey, Jr., Prest. Wabash R. R. Co.
Eben Richards, Prest. Title Guarantee Trust Co.
W. S. McChesney, Jr., Prest. Terminal R. R. Assn.
Chas. G. Warner, Vice-Prest. Mo. Pac. R. R.

W. G. SHARP'S ROMANTIC RISE

Marvelous Success Came With Marriage to Southern Woman—House Party in Progress at Failure.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Few disasters in Wall street have had such a romantic color as that which yesterday made Willoughby W. Sharp a bankrupt.

Before success came to Sharp, he met Mrs. Dora Hopkins, a beautiful young widow of Atlanta, Ga. As Miss Dora Adams, she had been one of the leaders of society in the South.

After their marriage Willoughby Sharp was marvelously successful. He became a rich man. The friends of Dora Hopkins in the South all rejoiced in the success which had fallen to her as Mrs. Sharp of New York.

Only a week ago, Miss Jennie English, daughter of one of the richest bankers of Atlanta and a close friend of Mrs. Sharp, came north to join a gay house party which was in progress at the country home of Mrs. Sharp near Rochelle.

This house party was still in progress when the news of the failure came.

MERCURY.

A POOR CRUTCH.

Experience is a dear teacher, as those who pin their faith to Mercury find out sooner or later. This powerful poison combined with Potash, is the treatment generally prescribed for Contagious Blood Poison, but failure and disappointment is the invariable result. These minerals drive in the sores and eruptions, and apparently the disease is gone and the patient believes the cure permanent, but soon learns better when the old symptoms return almost as soon as the treatment is left off. You must either keep the system saturated with mercury or endure the tortures of sore mouth, ulcerated throat and the mortification that one naturally feels when the body is covered with disgusting sores, rashes, copper-colored splotches and other aggravating symptoms of this vile disease.

Mercury and Potash are poor crutches, and their use eventually breaks down the constitution, ruins the digestion and cause the bones to decay.

SSS S. S. S., a guaranteed purely vegetable remedy, is the only antidote for Contagious Blood Poison. It destroys every atom of the deadly virus, overcomes the bad effects of the mercury and cleanses the blood and system so thoroughly that never after are any signs of the disease seen. Nor is the taint ever transmitted to others.

We will send free our book on Contagious Blood Poison, which is interesting and contains full directions for treating yourself at home. Medical advice or any special information desired given without charge.

HOSTILE FLEET IS READY TO STRIKE

Hovering About New England Coast Looking for a Port With Weak Protection.

DEFENSE PATROLS DISTRICT

Mimic War Game Will Last Five Days and Enemy Will Win by Reaching Any Land Base.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BAR HARBOR, Aug. 6.—Rear Admiral Barker, commander of the fleet which will defend the New England coast against the attack of the enemy under command of Rear Admiral Sands, has put to sea with his squadron.

In the fleet of the enemy are the battleships Texas, Indiana and Massachusetts and two destroyers.

In Admiral Barker's fleet are the battleships Kearsarge, Illinois and Alabama, the cruisers Olympia, Baltimore, Topeka, Yankee and Prairie, the destroyers DaDle, Chauncey, Decatur, Barry, Bainridge, Stuart and Worden and the auxiliary vessels Hartford, Chesapeake, Alliance, Vixen, Scorpion, Peoria and Nina.

Upon this latter fleet will depend theoretically the safety of New England for the next five days, for if Admiral Sands gets into any port from Eastport to Cape Cod, the enemy will have a base from which the whole of the group of states might be controlled. Practically this entire strip of coast is being patrolled by the fleet.

Communication can be carried on from ship to ship by wireless telegraph. Besides, there are signal stations along the coast. The government has had the telegraph wire from Baker's Island to the shore put in condition. This wire was first used during the Spanish war.

Just where the fleets are today is, of course, a matter of conjecture, but the indications are that the fighting force of the defending fleet is not far off.

The officers of the defending fleet are inclined to think that Admiral Sands will try to take Bar Harbor; hence enough vessels will be kept close by here to overwhelm him if he attempts an entrance.

This is a good place to get into, especially in foggy weather. The channels are deep and the harbor can be reached from two sides. One side, however, has been cut off by stationing the sailing vessels Chesapeake and Alliance at East Lamoine, near the coaling station.

It is generally believed that Admiral Sands' chances for victory are very good in case of a fog. To win, the enemy will have to be in a harbor for five hours without being discovered and met by a force sufficient to whip them. It is not necessary that he have his entire fleet with him.

The game will last until noon Monday, when the ships will return for coal.

MONEY FOR ILLINOIS CANAL.

Temporary Restraining Order Is Dissolved at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 6.—Judge Creighton, in the Sangamon Circuit Court today, dissolved the temporary injunction issued by Judge Thompson on petition of Representative Burke of Chicago restraining payment of any part of the appropriation made by the general assembly for maintenance of the Illinois and Michigan canal, Burke alleging that the constitution prohibits appropriations by the legislature in aid of canals or railroads.

PROMOTERS OF PROSPERITY.

The thought of making two blades of grass grow where one grew before deserved the immortality that has been given it. It was a good thought.

As our active President has said, deeds, not words. So the man who has increased the earth's product is more to be blessed—

However,

To the point. This is what "Business Opportunity" advertisements printed in the Post-Dispatch do. Not literally. Don't just exactly make grass grow, you know, but they make business grow, and more business makes more money, and more money feeds more people, and so on, probably back to actual cultivation of the soil. Today's paper has some interesting offers.

GOLF LINKS DEATH MYSTERY.

Unidentified Body Bears Marks Indicating an Assault.

An autopsy will be held on the unidentified body of a man found on the golf links of the Country Club near Clayton Wednesday. Marks of violence lead the county officials to suspect a crime.

Two empty bottles, one bearing a poison label, were found near the body. There was a gash under the left ear and blood spots on the face and clothing. No identifying marks or papers were found. The man was about 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighing 150 pounds, about 40 years old, had a brown mustache and was bald on the top of his head. He wore a hat bought in East St. Louis.

The officials are looking for a man who is said to have been seen with this man Wednesday morning.

Shovel Lesson Is Resented.

Because he felt insulted when his "boss" tried to teach him how to shovel sand, John Lafata, a laborer at the Scullin-Gallagher Steel Works, struck George Weaver, the offending foreman, over the head with the shovel. Weaver is at his home, 2904 Arsenal street, with a fractured skull. Lafata is held by the police.

Prescription No. 1251 by Eimer & Amend will not cure all complaints, but it will cure rheumatism.

Brothers-in-Law Do Battle.

A monkey wrench, various bricks and a revolver figured as weapons in a fight between Ben Winter of 1129 Cass avenue and his brother-in-law, Thomas Hutchinson of 1414 North Twelfth street. At the finish Hutchinson was suffering from pistol wounds in the right groin and right hip. He is at the City Hospital. Winter is in jail.

CATARRH AND MALARIA

IN ANY PART OF THE HUMAN SYSTEM CURED BY

"De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na and Iron"

DON'T TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT BUT READ WHAT CURED PEOPLE SAY.

MRS. E. G. DICKASON,

Of Kirkwood, Mo., Cured of Spinal Headache Caused by Catarrh.

MRS. E. G. DICKASON.

Mrs. Dickason says: "I suffered for years with catarrh in my head which doctors told me was the cause of my severe headaches. My suffering at times was intense. I tried all kinds of catarrh snuffs, inhalers and also several well-known catarrh cures, but received no relief. A lady friend told me that she had been cured of the same trouble by De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na and Iron, so I immediately began taking it and less than a bottle stopped my headaches and I am sure that one or two more bottles will cure me entirely. In addition to curing my severe headaches, it has built up my entire system and I feel so thankful I want every lady to know what this splendid remedy has done for me."

READ THIS LETTER.

MR. F. T. BENTLEY

Vice President of the Gately Credit Clothing Co., 812 North Broadway, Cured of "Dry Catarrh" After Suffering for Years.

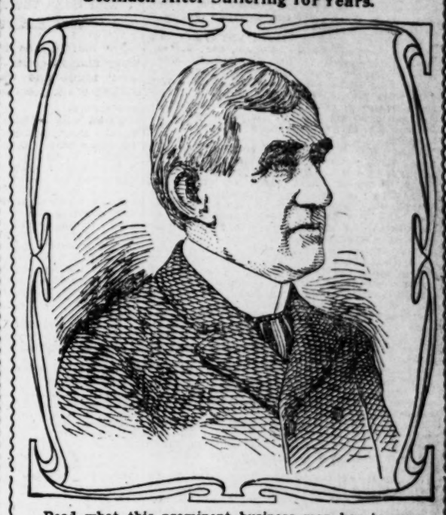

MR. BENTLEY SAYS:

"I have been a sufferer for years with dry catarrh in my head, hard substances in my nose. I not only tried several well-known so-called catarrh remedies, but was treated by some of the best specialists in the country, but received but precious little relief. I began taking De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na and Iron and less than two bottles has effected an absolute cure, and today I am perfectly free from it for the first time in years. I not only strongly and most heartily indorse De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na, but will take pleasure in answering any questions from parties who are interested and troubled with catarrh.

Very truly,
F. T. BENTLEY."
St. Louis, May 27th, 1903.

MR. J. S. WOOD,

A Well-Known Business Man of Omaha, Neb., Cured of Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach After Suffering for Years.

Read what this prominent business man has to say: "I have been a sufferer of dyspepsia, attended by biliousness, for a number of years. During the last year I had perfect misery in my stomach nearly all the time. I bought and tried everything, also was treated by two physicians, but could get only relief for the time being. I had De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na recommended to me so highly by a lady friend I concluded to try it, and three bottles entirely cured me, and today I eat anything I feel disposed to. I feel I can not recommend it too highly for catarrh of the stomach or chronic stomach trouble."

May 26, 1903. J. S. WOOD, 4903 Chicago St., Omaha, Neb.

No matter what you have tried or what physicians have failed to cure you, if you suffer with Catarrh, Malaria or any Blood trouble in any part of the system, start taking "De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na and Iron" at once and you will soon add your testimony to the many thousands of cured people from all parts of the country. SEALED PROPOSALS.

WHEREAS, By its certain deed of trust bearing date June 22, 1892, and recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds for the City of St. Louis, State of Missouri, in book 677, page 480, the People's Railway Co. conveyed the property in said deed of trust described to Thomas E. Tutt and John Jackson, as trustees, in trust to secure payment of the principal sum of certain bonds therein mentioned of said People's Railway Co., and the interest coupons belonging and attached thereto, and it was provided by said deed of trust that if any of said bonds or coupons should not be presented for payment when all of said bonds by the terms thereof, became due and payable, it should then be the duty of said trustees to give notice by advertisement for sixty days (legal holidays excepted), in two newspapers of the largest circulation published in said city of St. Louis, that at the end of said period of sixty days, they would receive from said company the principal amount and all interest payable thereon of any of said bonds which had not been presented for payment as aforesaid, and would deposit the amount so received in some safe depository for the use of the holders of such unpresented bonds or interest coupons, and would execute a release of the property conveyed by said deed of trust, unless cause to the contrary should be shown before or at the end of said period of sixty days, and, if no such cause be shown, said trustees, upon receiving the amount of principal and interest aforesaid, together with evidence that all other bonds secured by said deed of trust had been paid, should execute a deed reciting the facts and releasing the property described in said deed of trust from the operation of such deed of trust; and,

WHEREAS, The principal sum of all the bonds so secured as aforesaid became, by the terms thereof, due and payable on May 1, 1902, and the same, together with all interest coupons belonging to said bonds have been fully paid, excepting two certain interest coupons, each for the sum of thirty dollars, one of which is numbered 50, belonging to bond No. 80, and matured Nov. 1, 1894, and the other is numbered 28, belonging to bond No. 82 and matured May 1, 1896, and neither of which coupons has been presented for payment; and,

WHEREAS, Subsequent to the date of the execution of the bonds and deed of trust aforesaid, the trustees therein named, towit, Thomas E. Tutt and John Jackson, departed this life; and the said People's Railway Co. has, since said date, conveyed and transferred all of the property described in said deed of trust to the United Railways Co. of St. Louis; and,

WHEREAS, By a decree of the circuit court of the city of St. Louis, rendered at its April term, 1903, towit: On May 8, 1903, in a certain cause numbered 276214, wherein said United Railways Co. of St. Louis was plaintiff and the unknown owners of said two coupons, among others, were defendants, the undersigned was constituted and appointed by said court trustee under the deed of trust aforesaid, in lieu of and as successor to said deceased trustees, and with like duties and powers as described and granted in said deed of trust to said original trustees;

NOW, THEREFORE, By virtue of the appointment aforesaid and of the facts hereinbefore recited, and pursuant to the provisions of the aforesaid deed of trust, the undersigned trustee doth hereby give notice to all persons interested that it will, on the 6th day of September, 1903, receive from said People's Railway Co., or in its behalf, from said United Railways Co. of St. Louis, the amount due on the two interest coupons aforesaid so heretofore presented or paid, and will, thereupon, execute a release of all property conveyed in the deed of trust aforesaid from the operation of such deed of trust, unless cause to the contrary be shown to the undersigned on or before said last mentioned date.
